Alabama And Arkansas Voting On Repeal Of Dry Law

LIGHT VOTE EXPECTED IN BOTH STATES

First of Traditionally Dry States Go to Polls as Both Sides Optimistic

ARKANSAS DRYS PRAY

Tennessee, Another South State Will Vote Thursday; Leaders Active

BULLETIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 18.—(UP)—Upper Hill township, Prairie county, the first to report in the Arkansas vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment, today voted 44 to 1 for repeal. Mrs. E. D. Purvis, wife of the election judge, said she voted against repeal.

THE DRIVE to repeal the 18th amendment underwent its crucial test today as the first states of the traditionally dry south to consider the issue, voted on the 21st (repeal) amendment. The states were Alabama and Arkansas. Tennessee will vote Thursday.

If wets take two of the three states, repeal was believed likely this year. Drys believed by winning two out of three they would be able to delay repeal until 1934 and perhaps retain the 18th amendment in the constitution.

Sixteen states have voted repeal.

The campaigns in Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee bore a close similarity.

The drys fought on the moral issue and concentrated on the "church vote." Repeal means return of the saloon, they argued, and in speeches, posters, and advertisements urged the moral duty of keeping liquor away from mankind.

The wets campaigned on the issue of states' rights and demanded support of the democratic platform and a democratic president. The south, preponderantly democratic, prosecuted its civil war on the state's rights issue.

A light vote was anticipated in both Arkansas and Alabama. Both states levy a poll tax and the depression forced many citizens not to qualify.

ALABAMA

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama, July 18.—(UP)—Alabama voted on repeal of the 18th amendment today.

Dry leaders, convinced if repeal is to be stopped it must be

STATE VOTED THREE TO ONE FOR REPEAL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 18.—(UP)—Emphasis of California's vote on prohibition was three-to-one on the wet side of the fence, Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan announced today.

Jordan's office force checked over the certified returns of the 22 dry and 22 wet candidates for the prohibition repeal ratification convention. The vote disclosed H. H. Cotton, James Murphy and William Hornblower were first three among the wets with 1,019,818, 1,018,136 and 1,017,988 votes respectively. Lowest number of votes received by a wet delegate was Mrs. Imogene Hock. She received 1,017,129.

AIMEE ON WAY TO CALIFORNIA TO FIGHT SUIT

Evangelist Does Not Want Hutton But Wants Divorce in Own Name

PARIS, July 18.—(UP)—Aimee McPherson Hutton, Four Square gospel evangelist, is on her way back to California to fight the divorce suit of her husband David Hutton—not that she wants Hutton, but that she wants the divorce in her own name, the United Press learned today.

Mrs. McPherson Hutton, who slipped away from the American hospital after an abdominal operation recently, visited her daughter in the Paris suburbs. Dodged those who sought to trail her and sailed from Havre Sunday on the Baltimore mail liner City of Havre.

The ship is due at Baltimore July 25, a week from today.

It was a warning sent to her from her Angelus temple flock at Los Angeles that the bulky singer was preparing to file suit for divorce, and the evangelist decided at once to go home, contest it and obtain the divorce herself.

Radios Newspapers

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—David L. Hutton Jr., who thought he was another Atlas carrying the world on his broad shoulders, contemplated a new independence today.

He looked forward to a divorce from his evangelist wife, Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, and a new-found freedom as a song, said, perhaps dance, man on the stage. There was no apparent rancor in his words as he discussed the suit he filed yesterday in which he charged extreme mental cruelty and asked for a share of community property.

Mrs. Hutton radioed local newspapers she was "surprised" by the divorce suit. Although the United Press in Paris learned otherwise, and her husband received this crisp but glowing message:

"Sweetheart, Reassure me of your confidence, Wite."

A suspicious fellow since receiving his wife's "hoax baby message" several weeks ago, Hutton decided not to reply for the present.

"I'll answer that later," he said. "I am going through with some of my plans, anyway, and I am determined to look after my career first."

FILM PUBLICIST IN HOLLYWOOD CALLED

HOLLYWOOD, July 18.—(UP)—Harry Wilson, 36, one of the best known publicists in the motion picture industry, died shortly before last midnight in Good Samaritan hospital.

He came to Hollywood from New York City 20 years ago and during his career as a film publicity writer was attached to United Artists studios, Edwin Carewe productions and the First National studios, "handling" many stars including Jackie Coogan. He was connected with the Columbia Picture publicity bureau at the time of his death.

Survivors included the widow, Mrs. Ivy Crane Wilson, and a stepson, Douglas Crane Wilson.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT HOPS FOR CHICAGO

RENO, Nev., July 18.—(UP)—Elliott Roosevelt, 22-year-old son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose wife, Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, obtained a divorce at Minden, Nev., yesterday, was en route to Chicago by airplane today.

Before leaving here last night, Young Roosevelt confirmed reports he would see Ruth Goggins, Fort Worth debutante whose name has been linked with his in Chicago, but told interviewers not to "draw any wrong conclusions."

A romance between Elliott and Miss Goggins has been rumored since Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt revealed her son's plans to divorce his young wife seven weeks ago.

GETS MILLION

Robert M. Ridley, San Francisco broker, is the heir to more than $1,000,000 of the fortune of his grand-uncle, Edward A. Ridley, mysteriously murdered in his New York home.

EXPECT WOODIN TO QUIT POST BEFORE FALL

Believed Health of Secretary May Cause Him to Leave Cabinet

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Despite heated official denials, the belief persisted in circles close to the administration today that Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin would resign from the cabinet before the end of summer.

Although the latest revival of reports he would resign met the prompt reply that "Mr. Woodin is expected back at his desk next week," there well-informed persons who believed the secretary's health might cause him to step from the cabinet.

Others thought disclosure of Woodin's "bargain" stock purchases from J. P. Morgan & Co. several years ago might be the motivating influence that would decide him to retire politically.

Woodin is recuperating from throat trouble, his second attack in recent months. Soon after taking office he was forced to his bed. Later a recurrence compelled him to take a longer rest at his New York home.

POLICE CALLED OUT AT BALTIMORE RIOT

BALTIMORE, Md., July 18.—(UP)—All available police were called today when 500 striking clothing workers rioted in front of the plant of Lamm Bros., clothing manufacturers.

Five officers on duty at the factory when the riot started were swept aside in the first rush of a pitched battle. Detective Sergeant David Elmgrove was beaten and received a deep laceration over one eye.

One woman and five men were arrested after police reinforcements quelled the disturbance.

The Lamm plant is one of three in Baltimore in which labor conditions are being reviewed by Dr. J. Knox Insley, state commissioner of labor and statistics.

SPEED SAVES LIFE OF HOLLYWOOD MAN

WOOD RIVER, Neb., July 18.—(UP)—Quick action of Herbert Bidwell, Hollywood, Calif., in throwing his brother-in-law, Gay Garrison, to the ground, was credited today with saving him from burning to death.

Garrison's clothes were ignited when a backfiring tractor ignited gasoline. Crazed with pain he started running for a well some distance away. Bidwell dropped him with a football tackle and extinguished the flames.

REPEAL FIGHT IS CARRIED TO HIGHER COURT

Supreme Court Asked to Reverse Decision of L. A. Superior Court

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—The battle of Southern California prohibition leaders to invalidate California's popular vote repealing the Eighteenth amendment was before the state supreme court today for a decision.

An appeal was filed late yesterday from a recent decision of Superior Judge Emmett H. Wilson sustaining the legality of the June 27 election. The fight was carried to the supreme court in behalf of Richard M. Cannon, son of the nationally-known dry crusader, Bishop James Cannon Jr., and the Rev. F. G. H. Stevens of Santa Monica.

The appeal reiterated previous contentions that election provisions for a repeal convention violated both state and federal constitutions.

Permitted by Judge Wilson's ruling to proceed with the canvass of the election vote, the Los Angeles county supervisors found that 388,901 repeal votes were cast as against 139,355 retention ballots.

The state supreme court had previously refused to block the election.

ROLPH VETO IS OVERRIDDEN IN STATE SENATE

"Joyriding Bill" Will Become Law; Another Veto Sustained

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—Salary reductions for superior judges in San Bernardino and Orange county from $7000 to $6000 annually were assured today when the senate overrode the governor's veto of a bill providing the cuts.

Similar action was taken yesterday by the assembly on the measure.

BULLETIN

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 18.—(UP)—Pugnacious senators, obviously relishing their opportunity to strike back at Governor Rolph, continued their veto rampage today by passing the kindergarten bill and five others over the governor's objections.

GEORGE SUNDAY IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(UP)—George M. Sunday, son of the evangelist, was "sullen and morose, cursed and stayed away from home," his wife, Mauryne Sunday, former Hollywood cloak model, charged in a divorce suit on file here today.

The 30-year-old victim died of a heart attack while trying to reach Wiley's Well, 11 miles from where he and three companions were stranded when their machine broke down on the little-traversed Niland trail.

Silver Plan Of U. S. Runs Into Trouble

LONDON, July 18.—(UP)—America's "sincerity" silver plan, announced as a test of whether Europe really wants to reach agreements at the World Economic conference, met difficulty at the start today when Spain demanded an increased quota of yearly sales from her silver holdings.

Senator Key Pittman, Dem., Nevada, silver expert on the American delegation and author-sponsor of the sincerity plan, was negotiating with Spanish delegates, so a conference of the silver sub-committee scheduled for this morning was postponed.

RETURNS ON FOUR CROPS SHOW GAINS

Potential Receipts From Leading Crops Advance Over Two Billions

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—Booming commodity prices have increased the American farmer's cash and potential return on four leading crops by more than $2,150,000,000.

This huge gain, attributed partly to effects of the Roosevelt recovery program and partly to unfavorable crop reports, was calculated today on the basis of the increase in prices of cotton, corn, wheat and oats since March 1.

The figure takes into account the stocks of these commodities held by farmers on their farms and the value of their maturing crops on the basis of preliminary estimates of yield.

Its significance is best realized when compared with other depression statistics. It is, for example, equivalent to more than half the amount tied up in closed banks. It is almost equivalent to one-half the year's gross farm income, tentatively estimated at $5,143,000,000.

The increase alone, on the basis of these figures, more than equals the gross income of farmers from crops in 1932. By "crops" is meant all farm products sold by the farmer except livestock and livestock products. The return on crops last year was estimated in April at $5,143,000,000.

If the rice can be converted into crop dollars, it will turn a heavy deficit from farm operation in 1932 to a tidy profit in 1933.

Grain prices have increased far more than 100 per cent, while cotton has increased approximately 83 per cent since March 1.

The increased values were being most appreciably felt in the 16 cotton states, the great western wheat plains and the middle western corn belt.

In arriving at the estimate no allowance was made for the commodities in the hands of millers, in farm cooperatives or in factories. Nor was there any allowance made for the wheat now being harvested but which has been committed to sale in advance.

The current wheat crop, estimated at 500,000,000 bushels, is worth at market prices $285,000,000 more than at March 1 prices. In addition the wheat farmers moved from farm to market in April and May 100,000,000 bushels of wheat at an estimated average price increase of 20 cents a bushel. On July 1 they had on their farm another 79,000,000 bushels which by now has increased in price about 77 cents over March 1 figures.

REVEALS MARRIAGE OF HELEN MORGAN

NEW CASTLE, Pa., July 18.—(UP)—Helen Morgan, who won fame with her "blues" songs on Broadway and on the screen, has been married two months to a young Cleveland attorney, it was disclosed here today.

Miss Morgan and Maurice Maschke Jr., obtained their marriage license early on the morning of May 15 after applying for it before Justice of the Peace Harrison M. Reynolds, of Union township, near here. They returned to the justice's office and were married immediately afterwards.

The ceremony over, the bride and groom motored westward.

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF J. W. HARRIMAN

NEW YORK, July 18.—(UP)—Police watched the grave of Alan Harriman at Locust Valley, L. I., today, believing that his father, Joseph W. Harriman, missing banker charged with falsifying the books of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, might go there.

Harriman's second disappearance within two months interrupted a sanity hearing in federal court to test his fitness to stand trial. Police, checking his movements, discovered he attempted twice to take his own life in the first three hours following his leaving from the Regent Nursing home.

Immediately after his departure, Harriman rode back and forth from Manhattan to New Jersey on Hudson river ferry boats three times.

FIRST VACATION IN 20 YEARS IS FATAL

BLTYHE, Cal., July 18.—(UP)—A vacation trip, his first in 20 years, came to a tragic end for Stephen Carevich, Redondo Beach grocer, on the sun parched desert 25 miles southwest of here, authorities reported today.

The 30-year-old victim died of a heart attack while trying to reach Wiley's Well, 11 miles from where he and three companions were stranded when their machine broke down on the little-traversed Niland trail.

SALES TAX IS SUBMITTED IN BOTH HOUSES

Measure Calls for Two and One Half Percent Consumer's Sales Levy

SACRAMENTO, July 18.—(UP)—Simultaneous introduction in both houses of measures providing for a 2-1/2 per cent consumer's retail sales tax today launched the budget deficit battle in California's 50th legislature.

After a prolonged session, the inter-house committee of 14 decided to submit the 2-1/2 per cent bill. Attempt to raise the rate to 3 per cent lost by one vote.

Estimates of the revenue yield varied from $80,000,000 to $120,000,000. The committee last night was inclined to think $100,000,000 would be realized.

The committee amended the bill to provide:

Two per cent of the tax receipts—approximately $1,000,000 annually—should be appropriated by the state board of equalization to administer the bill.

Two hundred sales tax collection employees should not be subject to civil service.

The inter-house group unofficially declared against exemptions. It also urged the equalization board should be given wide latitude in its powers of administering the new tax.

With the sales tax out of the way, the committee of 14 will turn to supplemental taxes designed to bring revenue up to within striking distance of the deficit, estimated by various authorities at anywhere between $122,000,000 and $128,000,000. Its purpose is to fall just short of balancing the budget. Theory behind this plan is it's better to cut below the deficit than take any chances on a surplus.

Favored as supplemental levies were:

Increase in inheritance taxes, $1,500,000.

Dollar increase in the motor vehicle license fee, $4,000,000.

REPORT THIRD MAN KILLED IN CRASH

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(UP)—The state department was notified today by the American embassy in Berlin that a third person was reported to have been killed in the crash of the plane carrying the Lithuanian fliers, Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas.

The identity of the third person was not made, the embassy merely mentioning that "a third member of the crew also was reported lost."

At the state department officials felt that the report of a third person on the plane was due to the fact that a package containing mail was found bearing the name of Victor Jesgalites, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

VERITABLE IRON MAN

Next Stop Khabarovsk and Then 300 Mile Flight to Fairbanks, Alaska

IRKUTSK, Siberia, July 18.—(UP)—Wiley Post, setting a record-breaking pace on his flight around the world, landed here from Novosibirsk at 3:35 p. m. Moscow time today (8:35 a. m. EDT).

On landing, he was 75 hours and 25 minutes out of New York and 16 hours 34 minutes ahead of the record.

NOVOSIBIRSK, Siberia, July 18.—(UP)—Wiley Post, American around the world flier, took off at 1:55 a. m. EDT today (11:55 a. m. local time) for Irkutsk, 870 miles away. He was 17 hours and 4 minutes ahead of the record he and Harold Gatty made two years ago.

Post was 38 hours 45 minutes out of New York. He had spent 48 hours 54 minutes in the air.

Of the 15,400 miles in the globe circling flight, he had covered 4500. He must get back to Floyd Bennett airport, New York, before 9:01 p. m. EDT Sunday to better his record with Gatty—8 days, 15 hours, 51 minutes.

Sleeps But Once

A veritable iron man, who had slept but once—at Koenigsberg, Germany—since he left New York, Post arrived here from Moscow at 11:19 p. m. EDT Monday (8:09 a. m. today Novosibirsk time).

Civil aviation authorities, newspapermen and Miss Fay Gillis, of Minneapolis, were at the field to greet him. He swept down to a splendid landing.

Climbing out of the cockpit of the Winnie Mae, looking worn but cheerful and alert, Post proceeded at once to inspect his plane. Its condition was excellent, and it needed no repairs.

He watched while mechanics filled the plane's five tanks with gasoline. He would not sleep and ate sparingly. He took aboard food for the flight to Irkutsk.

Airport officials, anxious that he should be in the best of shape, urged him to sleep. He consented to lie down for ten minutes, with

Col. A. M. Turntail, leader of the wets, claimed victory in all but a half dozen of the state's 67 counties. The half dozen counties were "doubtful," he said.

ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 18.—(UP)—While voters expressed themselves at the polls today on the question of repealing the 18th amendment, hundreds of the devout gathered in church throughout the state to pray for a dry victory.

FRED A. SCHAUER RITES TOMORROW

Fred A. Schauer, 42, a native of Wisconsin but a resident of California for more than 20 years, passed away yesterday morning at the Veterans' home in Sawtelle after an extended illness. His father was pastor of the Evangelical church here for several years. For a number of years the family home was on a ranch southwest of Anaheim.

He had been in the home at Sawtelle for several years, never having regained his health after returning from the World war. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Louise H. Schauer, of Santa Ana; one sister, Mrs. Lucella N. Krupke, of Riverside, and three brothers, Leonard W., of Garden Grove; the Rev. Ulysses S., of Porterville, and Waldo H. Schauer, of Los Angeles. He was a member of the Evangelical church, of the American Legion post No. 288 at Garden Grove and of the Jack Fisher chapter No. 23, Disabled Veterans of the World war of Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held from the Hilgenfeld Funeral home in Anaheim tomorrow at 2 o'clock. The Rev. E. E. Burgi, district superintendent of the California conference of the Evangelical church, will officiate and interment will be made in the family plot in the Olivewood cemetery at Riverside.

GEORGE B. EWING RITES WEDNESDAY

George B. Ewing, 52, prominent in the civic affairs of Laguna Beach for several years, died yesterday following a long illness. He formerly was a noted clubman of San Francisco, where he was contact man for the United States Steel corporation with foreign buyers.

Retiring about six years ago, because of poor health, Mr. Ewing came to Laguna Beach and for several years gained rapidly in strength. He had a rich bass voice and sang in the first production of "Robin Hood" in Fairwood in 1928. He was active in the affairs of the Little Art theater and supported Wayne Moore in his productions.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of the Laguna Beach Funeral home. The Episcopal service will be read by the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, vicar of St. Mary's church. The honorary pallbearers will be Perry E. McCullough, W. T. Lambert, Wayne Moore, Stuart Avila, John W. Neal and Kurt Perrin. The body will be cremated.

Ewing is survived by his sister, Miss Blanche Ewing, who came to Laguna Beach when he built his home at 780 Catalina street.

ROLPH VETO IS OVERRIDDEN IN STATE SENATE

ture alone would save the state $200,000 a year.

The veto attack was led by Sen. David Bush, Oklaide, who asserted Governor Rolph's veto message was only a "smoke screen" to permit the continuation of unlimited use of publicly owned cars to the detriment of the taxpayer.

Technical objections to the bill were voiced by Sen. Will R. Sharkey, Martinez, administration floor leader, in an unsuccessful attempt to have the veto sustained.

The senate did, however, sustain the governor's veto of a bill which would have denied county treasurers expense money when making trips to Sacramento to make semi-annual settlements with the state controller.

Senator James M. Allen, Yreka, announced today he was preparing a resolution memorializing President Roosevelt to lift the embargo on newly mined gold.

Allen pointed out that the domestic price of gold was $20.67 an ounce, while a price of $36 an ounce could be obtained in foreign markets.

The senate ratified amendments recently voted to the San Jose city charter.

Veto by Governor Rolph of the Craig road signing bill was sustained by the assembly, 61 to 4, at the request of Assemblyman Edward Craig, of Brea, this morning.

One of the season's troublemakers, the bill would have required the state to take over signing of the highway system. Automobile clubs now perform this service under agreement with the state.

Rolph's veto message said cost of a state road sign maintenance organization would far exceed expense to the state under the present system.

LAGUNANS FAVOR OWN HIGH SCHOOL

Voters of Laguna Beach went to the polls yesterday and decided in favor of forming a high school district at Laguna in a plebiscite election called by County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson. Eighty voted in favor of sending children to Tustin and four voted to send them to Newport Harbor Union High school. One hundred and thirty-two voted in favor of a Laguna high school district.

School trustees now will have to circulate petitions calling for the formation of the district. The petitions will require signatures of half the registered voters or half the parents who have children in school. Then a special election must be held to decide on forming the high school district and supplying a high school within a year.

With the contract with Tustin Union High school void, members of the school board must work out the problem of what to do with high school students this coming term. Conferences on the matter will be held.

The election was held to straighten out the situation created when a ruling of the state department of education declared the Laguna Beach high school district lapsed June 26.

Seven Get Fines In Police Court

Five speeders and two men charged with drunkenness appeared before Judge J. G. Mitchell in police court yesterday and were fined a total of $40.

his eyes closed, but remained fully awake.

Then he was off, after a halt of but 2 hours 36 minutes, on his way to Irkutsk. He will follow the trans-Siberian Railway all the way across Siberia.

Rain At Irkutsk

It was raining at Irkutsk while Post was here. But the weather further along his route was favorable. Post planned to rest at Irkutsk only two or three hours, while his plane was being refueled and overhauled, and then proceed on to Khabarovsk, in extreme Eastern Siberia, 1380 miles from Novosibirsk, where he will spend a night.

From Khabarovsk but three planned hours remained—Khabarovsk to Fairbanks, Alaska, 3000 miles; Fairbanks to Edmonton, Canada, 1450, and Edmonton to Floyd Bennett field, New York, 2200.

Advised that the landing field at Irkutsk was not a good one, Post decided to look it over and if he found it hazardous, to proceed to Chita, 480 miles nearer Khabarovsk, his final planned halt in Soviet Russian territory. Post said he would overhaul his plane completely at Irkutsk or Chita.

"I flew in fog all the way," he said of his flight from Moscow to Novosibirsk. "I could not even see land for half the route."

Russian officials, eager to aid the American flyer, sent word ahead to authorities at both Irkutsk and Chita to have fuel ready.

Post's record from New York out was: New York to Berlin, 25 hours 46 minutes. Aground 2 hours 46 minutes. Berlin to Koenigsberg 4:29. Aground 12:05 (leapt). Koenigsberg to Moscow 5:35. Aground 2:55. Moscow to Novosibirsk 13:04. Aground 2:36.

7-HOUR SCHEDULE FOR TITLE FIRMS

Starting Monday, the three title companies in Orange county, all of which are located in Santa Ana, will go on a seven-hour daily schedule instead of the former eight-hour schedule, it was announced today by R. Carson Smith, manager of the Security Title Insurance and Guarantee company.

The three companies, including the Orange County Title company and the Abstract Title and Insurance company, will have offices open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., instead of 9 a. m.

Smith declared that the movement is in line with the president's program for recovery. No reductions in salaries are planned, and several who have had part-time work or have had no work for some time will be put back to work with the inauguration of the new program, he said.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

To the Editor of The Register: I would like to make a suggestion in regards to the Orange County Unemployment Relief fund, if I may?

Not very many days ago I attended the funeral of a party whose family was unable to meet these expenses, which of course the county did. Every possible consideration was shown the family, and the undertaking establishment to which the body was taken gave wonderful service.

It came to my mind while the service was being said at the cemetery, that a great deal of improvement could have been done in the county's plot, with a small amount of our relief allotment.

That section is in a deplorable condition in comparison to the great amount of improvements being made on our riverbeds, roadways, and bridge paths, which the men are doing.

Don't you think it would be a credit to our county as well as a comfort to our poorer residents, if this condition could be improved if possible?

A Friend and Taxpayer.

H. D. PROJECT GETS SUPPORT THIS MORNING

After declining last week to take any action on a request asking the state legislature to cede state tidelands at Huntington Beach to the city of Huntington Beach, the board of supervisors this morning adopted a resolution approving the proposal.

The resolution was adopted on motion of Supervisor William Jerome of the First district, seconded by Supervisor George Jeffrey of the fifth district. Supervisor Mitchell of the second district, embracing the area in which the tidelands are located, cast the only opposing vote.

The resolution as adopted by the board this morning declares that certain portions of the tidelands have oil and gas deposits which are opposite a known producing field which at present is draining the oil deposit without any compensation to the public.

The board, according to the resolution, is of the opinion that such areas located opposite such producing fields should be developed for the benefit of the citizens of the state through royalties paid to the state, county of Orange and the city of Huntington Beach.

The resolution further states that the development program which will be inaugurated upon approval of the tidelands grant would release approximately $2,000,000 into the channels of trade and provide employment for several hundred men now idle and would thus stimulate activity and prosperity.

It was resolved that the board approve the action of the Huntington Beach city council taken July 7 enabling development steps be taken to procure the tidelands from the state.

It is understood that the tidelands will be leased with the state, county and city receiving a 16 2-3 royalty. Under a division of the royalty the state would receive 1-3 royalty and the city and county 4 1-6 per cent each.

COUNTY BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON TAX FUNDS

Whether or not gasoline tax and motor vehicle license funds are appropriated by the county of Orange to assist two Laguna Beach paying districts meet bond interest and principal payments will be decided before August 21.

This information was given a delegation of Laguna Beach property owners when they appeared before the board of supervisors this morning seeking financial assistance for the two districts.

Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton advised the board and the delegation that two amendments to the state law, making such appropriations possible, will become effective on August 21.

Under the amendments the money derived from gasoline tax and motor vehicle license may be used to meet bond interest and principal payments on highways decided by the board to be of general county use.

In announcing future action on determination of a policy governing such expenditures, members of the board declared that they are not, at this time, prepared to adopt such policy. The matter will be settled before the amendments to the present state laws become effective and it is favorable to the districts money for the requested assistance will be included in the 1933-34 budget, the delegates were informed.

Whether or not gasoline tax and motor vehicle license funds are appropriated by the county of Orange to assist two Laguna Beach paying districts meet bond interest and principal payments will be decided before August 21.

COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW SALARY SCHEDULE FOR DEPARTMENTS; REDUCTIONS TOTAL $20,300

Announced as the first step in the wholesale slashing of city expenses to reduce the budget, a salary scale for all city departments was adopted by the city council last night, the total being $20,300 under the amount for the year just completed.

Santa Ana will pay $215,477 in salaries for the year beginning July 1. With the total budget expected to be approximately $462,000, or about 20 per cent less than last year, further cuts in municipal costs will be announced within a few days.

Department heads were instructed several weeks ago to reduce wherever possible, and their combined estimates submitted to the council totaled $206,000, about $9000 less than was finally adopted by the councilmen. Most of the cuts were made at the suggestion of Alfred H. Campion, tax research expert of the California Taxpayers' association.

MOUNTAINS AND JESUS TOPIC OF SUNDAY SERMON

ORANGE, July 18.—Delivering the morning sermon yesterday at Villa Park Community church, the Rev. Wesley P. Ford talked on "Jesus in the Mountains."

He said in part: "Jesus spent much time in the mountains; He went there frequently to pray, and He did much of His teaching, preaching and healing in the mountains. It is not uncommon for a doctor to send his patients to the mountains, for the air and the water are purer than in the valley. As we go up on the mountain top, we seem to come closer to God."

"Jesus came back from the mountains and dwelt in the valley; He healed the sick, the blind and the lame. If we seek the kingdom of God, let us not look to the mountains, but into our own lives. In spite of evil things, we may find God here in the valley. Let us first cleanse our own lives."

"As we serve the least among men, we are rendering service unto God. He has asked us to pray and to take time to be holy. As we listen to the still, small voice, we hear of the good Samaritan and are told, 'Go thou and do likewise.'"

"Only as we grow are we able to do more for Him."

They lived in Africa for nearly three years where they state the climate is somewhat similar to that of California but more moist and warmer, and where they raised to hacco among other products. As their ranch was located in the southern hemisphere, the seasons were exactly opposite to those of California and the summer season was at its height in December.

The Johnstons who lived on a high plateau 2000 miles from Cape town, often visited country where the park of lions in the jungles sounded uncomfortably near, they declared.

CROWDS ATTEND SERVICES AT REVIVAL TENT

ORANGE, July 18.—More than 1500 persons took part in evangelistic meetings conducted Sunday afternoon and evening in the big tent erected for union services under the auspices of Orange Ministerial union.

Delivering a sermon on "The Romance of Gold" during the afternoon session, Charlie Taylor, evangelist, described the cellar vaults of the Bank of France, where 70 billions of francs of gold are stored. He stated that "These were built for the tragedy of the age, and will be the basis of the next world conflagration."

He stated further, "Gold will do to you what you will do with it. While it is a necessary basis of exchange, it is not as valuable as wisdom, and as understanding, which are reverent of God."

The 6:30 o'clock service was for young people, with Phil Taylor speaking.

During the evening service, Dr. James Dunning, newly appointed pastor of First Methodist church of Orange, gave devotionals. The sermon, given by Charlie Taylor, was on "The Man of the Hour."

He brought out that Jesus should be considered as a man's man, as an uncrowned king and as the Son of God.

At the close of the meeting, several of the audience dedicated themselves to Christ.

Delegations from Covina, South Pasadena and from Santa Ana attended Sunday night's meeting.

I learned about "Toasting" from my husband

I used to think that "Toasting" was just an advertising phrase. But one day my husband explained to me what "Toasting" is—and what it does. Where he learned it all, I don't know, but I began to understand the difference in cigarettes. Now I find myself enjoying Luckies' mildness and fine taste with a new respect. But even more—since I am a woman quite sensitive to personal daintiness—and since my cigarette and my lips are so intimately related, I especially appreciate the comforting purity of "Toasting". Naturally, with me it's always "Luckies Please!"

CITY COUNCIL GRANTS 13 NEW BEER PERMITS

Four permits for licenses to sell beer under the new city ordinance were granted by the city council at night and 13 new applications were granted, making a total of 15 licenses approved.

Ruth Jenkins, proprietor of a sandwich shop at 1305 South Main street, which was just 17 feet too close to the Julia Lathrop Junior high school, was denied permission to sell beer because of the ordinance stipulation that no establishment be closer than 200 feet from an educational institution.

P. P. Nickey Jr., manager of a concessions at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl, and A. H. Colvin, manager of a candy stand in Birch park, were not given licenses after the councilmen decided that it was against their policy to have beer sold on city property.

The other denial was to Harvey Colburn, 408 East Fourth street, who did not receive the approval of the special licensing committee composed of City Attorney Clyde Downing and Chief of Police Floyd Howard.

One wholesale, three off-sale, eight off-sale and on-sale licenses and one on-sale permit were granted. Most of the establishments had received permission to sell beer before the meeting last night. The licenses granted were as follows:

At a recent meeting of the parks and playgrounds committee of the chamber of commerce, copies of the deed were read to the effect that the park could not be used except for park purposes. Several prominent people, including a former mayor, are of the opinion that there are no restrictions or obstacles to building in Birch park and the exact wording of the deeds will be studied by Downing.

COUNCIL DENIES TAXI APPLICATION

Richard E. Meyers, 33, seeking permission to operate the Broadway Cab company at 305 North Broadway had his application denied at the city council last night meeting because of the adverse recommendation of the taxi committee.

In his application, Meyers stated that he had operated a taxi business in Santa Ana from 1928 to 1930, and wished to run two cabs from the Broadway address. No reason was given for the negative action except that it was the opinion of the committee that there was adequate service given by the existing companies.

Building Is Planned On Broadway Lot

Permission to erect another professional building at Tenth and Broadway was asked last night at the city council meeting.

ASKS CHANGE IN LICENSE MEASURE

Asking favorable action on a proposal to change the city ordinance regulating the licensing of religious practitioners, a letter was read to the council last night from Charles C. Blanchard, representing the board of publications of the First Church of Christ, Scientists.

Under the present ordinance, Christian Science practitioners are required to pay a yearly license fee, and Santa Ana is one of the very few cities in the state to have such an ordinance. It was pointed out. City Attorney Clyde Downing was instructed to recommend action on the proposed addition to the ordinance.

Blanchard suggested that after the part of the section concerning licenses, there should be added the clause, "... provided that this section shall not apply to those whose services for others consist only of religious instruction and prayer."

ORDINANCE ON DOG LICENSES READY JULY 24

A new ordinance governing the licensing and care of dogs in Santa Ana is being written by City Attorney Clyde Downing following numerous complaints made to the city council. The proposed new law probably will be presented next Monday night, Downing said today.

E. E. Frisby, health department official, estimated that about 1500 persons have been bitten by dogs in the past year, entailing a great amount of work and expense upon the health department for quarantine and inspection. In addition, many people conduct dog kennels without paying licenses and most of the individual dog licenses have not been renewed, he said.

Seek Data On Wheat Acreage

By compiling records now on how much wheat they planted and produced in the three years of 1930 to 1932, inclusive, farmers can speed up the government's adjustment program, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, in charge of the program in Orange county.

M. L. Wilson, chief of the wheat production section of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, says past production records of each farmer are needed to determine the allotment of each. He suggests that wheat farmers get the following information ready now:

Number of acres of wheat planted for the crop of each of the years.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Primo Camera is not the only bankrupt champion... old Stanislaus Zhyzsko recently filed a petition toward that end... stating his liabilities were $26,869... and assets $256... maybe it's something about which a new world economic conference should be called... The Very Large Venetian shouldn't be bankrupt very long, however... If Variety is correct... the Broadway weekly states Primo gets $1000 a day guarantee for a four-week run at Spoor's Spectacular on the Century of Progress grounds in Chicago... with a percentage arrangement... beginning July 23... after a week's run at a New York theater with the same guarantee... Bankruptcy must be grand!

The stock market, like other exchanges, is on the uptrend. Primo Camera and Max Baer can get a lot more money next June than they could get next month. Primo is not the only party in the agreement willing to hold his cauliflower stock until it gets back nearer the peak. Baer also is not anxious to sell out right now.

Jack Sharkey won and lost the heavyweight championship at rock bottom prices. Gene Tunney was paid a million and a half for two fights as champion. Sharkey's total for the affairs with Schmeling and Carners was around $120,000, less than a tenth of what Tunney realized.

BARGAIN SALE

Now Sharkey has accepted a $25,000 guarantee for a fight with King Levinsky in Chicago, and aims at Loughran later. No wonder he still wants to battle—he is only trying to maintain his family and he petitions in the style to which they have become accustomed.

It is only natural for Carners and Baer to try to cash in a few dividends on their stock before clashing. Carners not only is broke, but wherever he goes the constabulary is waiting to slap some new plaster or attachment on his vaudeville and exhibition earnings.

Baer is being sued, too. He runs smack-dab into a legal left hook whenever he exposes his chin. Max has learned to take it with a laugh.

REMOTE CONTROL

Fight managers before Will Duffy, Carners' handler, and Andy Hoffman, Max's pilot, have found ways of circumventing the sheriff. It used to be a quaint old Broadway custom to assign a fighter's purse to some bank in Tibet where the ovies poli roam. A

Mr. Hemingway would pop up out of the Tibetan plateau and take care of it. Maybe it's still being done. Jimmy McLarnin held out stoutly for $50,000 for a return welter championship bout with Young Corbett. That kind of money would look pretty large to heavyweights just now—but the market is going up, and why not wait?

HOLLYWOOD IN BID FOR LEAGUE'S LEAD

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—The Hollywood Stars, in the background for the last month, again are making a strong bid for the leadership of the Pacific Coast league. They open their new series today with the last place Seattle club two games behind the Sacramento Senators, who have clung to first place by a narrow margin for a month-and-a-half.

Los Angeles is trailing the Stars by one game. Portland is in fourth place. The background for the last month, again are making a strong bid for the leadership of the Pacific Coast league. They open their new series today with the last place Seattle club two games behind the Sacramento Senators, who have clung to first place by a narrow margin for a month-and-a-half.

KETCHELL IN MATCH WITH CHAMP JONES

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—(UP)—Wesley Ketchell, hard-hitting southpaw, graduates into faster company tonight by meeting "Gorilla" Jones, N. B. A. middleweight champion, in a scheduled 16-round bout at the Olympic auditorium. Ketchell was floored six times in a previous engagement with the Ohio Negro but subsequent ring successes made him optimistic he could avenge the defeat.

BATTLING SPORES The Yanks and the Cubs hold the record for scoring the most runs in an inning—14. The Yanks did the trick against the Senators in 1920, and the Cubs piled up their runs in a 1922 game against the Phillies.

DEMPSEY, HANNA WILLIAMS WED Stars In Civil War At Westminster

LACKAYE SENDS TEAM AGAINST FORMER MATES

Santa Ana and Westminster play a National Night league game at Westminster tonight that amounts to civil war.

Not only is the Westminster roster topheavy with Santa Ana talent but even the new Aviator pilot, George Lackaye, was with the Stars as manager as recent as last year.

Unattached during the first-half, Lackaye joined the Flyers last week just in time to sit on one of the season's upsets, a Westminster defeat by Fullerton in a 1-0 pitchers' duel.

Lackaye has been scouring the landscape for additional hitting strength ever since, and announced today the acquisition of Outfielders Joe Mens of Anaheim and Ross Gilhauser of Inglewood. Mens will not be immediately eligible for the Flyers lineup, but Gilhauser, scheduled to start in right field tonight, replacing Boyd Davis, Lackaye is not prepared to state definitely whether his slow-ball magician, "Fuzzy" Errington, or his easy veteran, Earl Morrill, will do Westminster's mound work against the Stars. It is Errington's turn to work, and "Fuzzy" usually has been effective against Santa Ana, but he is favoring an extremely sore shoulder so Morrill may draw the assignment instead.

Clarence ("Moose") Stevens at catch, with Johnny Stevens at first base, Leavitt Daley second, Cecil Sauers third and Joe Hosack at shortstop, Westminster released to Olive its other shortstopper, "Red" Kidder. Ray Smith will be in left field, Bruce Harolds in center, and the newcomer, Gilhauser in right.

Santa Ana will start exactly the same lineup that dropped a 5-3 decision on bunched hits to Anaheim last Friday. Wilbur Stinchfield, victim of the Valencia's timely rams, will pitch and Manager "Eeny" Wilcox will be the receiver. Ed Daley, George Preble, Tom Denny and "Memphy" Hill are to patrol the infield, and "Chub" Sears, Rod Ballard and "Rory" Merrill will be in the gardens.

WATSON SHUT OUT OLIVE WITH TWO HITS Paul ("Chandy") Watson, Whittier's man of many motions, pitched his heart out of Olive last night, giving up only two hits as the Poets coasted home to an 8-0 victory at Whittier.

Ora Sands, leading batsman of the National Night league, beat out two of his famous infield hits, one in the first and one in the third, but no other Packer solved Watson's puzzling service. Dave Hammock went the distance for Olive and, though hit hard, did not run into trouble until the sixth when Whittier made six runs on doubles by McKinney and Nolan and singles by Jertberg, Hill, Coats and Porter. An error on Nolan, Jertberg's single and White's single added two in the seventh.

JUNE KNIGHT 'GLAD' BAERS RECONCILED

HOLLYWOOD, July 18.—(INS)—June Knight, actress friend of Max Baer, heavyweight champion-southpaw, was "pleased" today that Baer and his wife, the pretty Dorothy Dunbar Wells Baer, also an actress, had kissed and made up.

Said dazzling June: "Max's return to Dorothy will probably be the very best thing for them both. My relations with Max were never predicated on his abandonment of Dorothy. They had separated long before we met."

Santa Ana Or Fullerton To Get "String"

"String" McDonnell, former Whittier pitcher, was still a free agent today with his eventual destination apparently narrowed to either Santa Ana or Fullerton.

Anaheim officially dropped negotiations for the tall hurler this morning, deciding to retain Russ Coggan for second string service. Olive also intimated it would not seek McDonnell. Fullerton became a surprise bidder, however, and was said to be very anxious to obtain the towering veteran.

Santa Ana officials admitted they would like to obtain McDonnell but added they were not prepared to enter into any kind of a bidding match for him.

"If he wants to pitch here he can," Manager "Eeny" Wilcox said. "The next move is up to him."

OLD BABE HITS HARD AS YANKS DRIVE TO TOP

BY DAVIS J. WALSH (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 18.—(INS)—At the risk of being original, this will be a story about the local right fielder, a man by the name of Ruth. Not a very new story but anyhow no older than the man himself who is 39, bordering on 40, and has the waistline of a male duenna.

They said at the start of the season that it was only a question of time as to how long the ball club could afford to carry him. I said it myself, not wishing to be the one with the exclusive announcement. I was in a position to make this question, in company with 37 others. But today he's carrying the ball club.

Just where and how far, nobody is quite prepared to say at this time. All they know is that, ten days ago the New York Yankees had gone all the way from 6 1-2 games in front to 4 1-2 behind and apparently were through. But Mr. Ruth, who had been through all along and had the benefit of previous training along this line, suddenly began to show why it was that some of us were so sure he had gone back.

He went all the way back, in fact to 1927, his greatest year. He hit three home runs in a double header July 9. He hit two more in a single game July 15. In all, he hit 12 runs in a little more than a week of play, although forced out of one game owing to the fact that he plunked violently into a field box after a fly ball.

This was all very splendid except that that night Mr. Ruth had to be plucked and carried for concrete. In fact, all he could do the next day was hit two home runs, with the result that the Yankees and Senators finished the week end in a dead heat and those who were reading the Yankees out of the pennant are now equally certain that they'll come on in the stretch.

"The checks are down now," they say, meaning that, from here on in, the Yankees will be playing on the basis of winners and losers. It seems to be the prevailing impression that they are the gamblers ball club, although I wouldn't know about that. One thing I do know is that Mr. Ruth is a very game ball player who might have doddered into retirement before the end of the present season if the doddering Yankees hadn't presented a problem that challenged his flair for the spectacular.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

By Laufer

If it turns out that Washington loses the pennant by a game or two, Joe Cronin will not thank the White Sox for bringing back Walter Miller from the minors. Washington happens to be about the only team in the American League that Miller can beat. The southpaw has licked the Senators twice this season, shutting them out once, but other teams find him easy to hit.

BAER AND WIFE ON '2ND HONEYMOON' CARDS, GAELS MAY NOT MIX UNTIL '35

OAKLAND, July 18.—(UP)—Max Baer, heavyweight fighter, and his wife, the former Dorothy Dunbar Wells, talked today of spending "a second honeymoon" at the Roseville ranch of Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, never far from the scene of the fight. The Baers were reunited here when the fighter arrived from the east. They immediately announced their intended estrangement was "all off" and that his association with June Knight, Hollywood actress, was "friendship only."

It was intimated that Mrs. Baer's suit for divorce, filed in Sacramento, would be dropped. After posing for photographers, the fighter and his wife left for Baer's family home in Piedmont, a suburb.

"The trouble was each of us wanted the right-of-way," said Baer in announcing the reconciliation. "Now we're going to give and take. June Knight? I never asked her to marry me. I couldn't be engaged to one girl while I was married to another, could I? June and I were just good friends."

HORNSBY REPORTED BROOKLYN'S LEADER

NEW YORK, July 18.—(INS)—As a result of Brooklyn's sorry showing in the west, the boys were reviving the yarn today that Rogers Hornsby, stormy petrel of the National league, will succeed Max Carey as pilot of the Dodgers next season.

Hornsby, who has been nominated to manage almost every outfit in the country except Singer's Midgets, announced in St. Louis recently that he would not be associated with the Cardinals in any capacity next season and "would be delighted to come east."

Carey recently was assured by Brooklyn owners that his job was safe, but subsequently the Dodgers have lost nine out of twelve starts and Maxmilian has good cause for worry, with his club only 2 1-2 games away from the cellar.

Matty's Son Heads For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(INS)—Christy Mathewson, son of the late famous baseball pitcher, was on route here today from the Orient aboard a Dollar liner due to arrive August 7. Mathewson's bride of a few weeks was killed in a plane smashup recently in the Orient. Mathewson was critically injured and was able to leave a hospital only a week ago.

Cruikshank Girl Defeats Miss Tauble

MANCHESTER, N. H.—(UP)—By THE SEA, July 18.—(UP)—Carroll Babcock, Los Angeles, top-seeded entry in the Essex County club women's tennis championship, defeated another Californian, Dr. Esther Bartosh, in third-round play today, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1.

Alice Marble, San Francisco, defeated Florence Le-boutillier, New York, 6-0, 6-1. Josephine Cruikshank, Santa Ana, Cal., defeated Norma Tauble, 6-2, 6-3. Sarah Palfrey, Brookline, defeated Helen Fulton, Chicago, 6-2, 6-2. Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. Mary Lammie, New York, 6-3, 6-4. Jane Sharp, Canadian champion, defeated Eunice Dean, Southwest champion, 9-7, 6-3.

MORSE PITCHES 'CATS' TO WIN AND RACE LEAD

Santa Ana's Green Cats were undisputed leaders of the Orange County Night Ball league again today, having put behind them their third successive victory of the second-half at the Municipal Bowl last night.

Huntington Beach, 6-1 victim of the Santa Anas, had been in a tie for first place and was conceded a good chance of overpowering Joe Harless' Cats. But Lyle Morse pitched one of his inspired games and Huntington Beach never threatened after the early innings.

Morse allowed only four hits and struck out 16. Reg Lake, Huntington Beach, lead-off man, opened the contest with a homer to center and he was the first, last and only Oriole to get past third base.

Santa Ana scored twice in the third inning on hits by Lyle Morse, Emmett Seacord, Charley Andres and Leo Morse, the latter's a double, and drove Pitcher Jim Coates from the box in the fifth, where four runs were manufactured on hits by Lyle Morse, Seacord, Andres and Hapes, and two errors and a fielder's choice.

Orange moved into a tie for second place by conquering Anaheim, 9-3. A first inning home run by Clarence Pargue, with two on, touched off a five-run rally that meant the ball game.

With Arthur ("Dutty") Trickey sitting in as manager, Irvine turned back Olive, 11 to 8. Kenny Forbes blasted a brace of homers. Irvine travels to Anaheim tomorrow night.

It was significant that Jack Kearns, who managed Dempsey into the world's heavyweight title, was not present when he married Miss Taylor.

Kearns did not approve of Dempsey's marriage and this fact was said to have led to the split between Kearns and Dempsey. They no longer were associated when Dempsey lost the title to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia.

CEREMONY IS PERFORMED AT ELKO, NEVADA

ELKO, Nev., July 18.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, stepped out of the role of prize fighter promoter long enough today to marry his third wife, Hannah Williams Kahn, Broadway musical comedy star and former wife of Roger Wolfe Kahn, orchestra leader.

The ceremony was performed in the Elko county courthouse by Justice of the Peace Alvin McFarlane, and Dempsey and his bride left immediately for Reno where last year the one time Manassa Mauler won a decree from his movie actress wife, Estelle Taylor.

Dempsey and Miss Williams arrived here early today from Salt Lake City. He used the name of Mike Costello in an effort to shield his identity but by the time the ceremony was over, several hundred townspeople had gathered in front of the courthouse.

Only a few intimate friends were present, among them Maurice Cain, Dempsey's business representative, and Mike Cantwell, one of Max Baer's managers.

Dempsey was dressed in a dark blue, double-breasted suit. Miss Williams wore a gray traveling ensemble.

They left immediately for Reno in Dempsey's car.

A large crowd of townspeople had gathered in front of the courthouse by the time the short ceremony was completed.

Dempsey shook his hands overhead in greeting the crowd. The gathering was made up of cowboys, miners, prospectors, and merchants of this small desert county seat.

Miss Williams blushed and waved. Neither would comment on their marriage.

Miss Williams objected to having her picture taken. "I look like such a mess after traveling all night," she said, Dempsey smiled, put his arm around her shoulder and said, "you're a liar."

Both laughed, and agreed to pose.

ESTELLE TAYLOR WIRES CONGRATULATIONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 18.—(UP)—Estelle Taylor, glamorous motion picture player and former wife of William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey, today wired the former heavyweight champion "every happiness" with his new mate, Hannah Williams, musical comedy actress.

"I hope they both will be happy," she said. "I hope, too, they will avoid the little things that caused the split between Jack and myself. I am glad they are to be married because it definitely severs all ties between Jack and myself. I prefer it that way."

Miss Taylor said she had no matrimonial plans.

Dempsey, then the world's champion, and Miss Taylor were married in San Diego the night of February 7, 1925.

They returned here to live, Dempsey continuing in the fighting ring and Miss Taylor going on with her screen career. Their Los Feliz boulevard home was one of the most beautiful in the city and it was there that Dempsey joined his wife after each fight.

Her married life was serene until early in 1931 and then came constant bickering between them. Always the arguments were about "little things," Miss Taylor said.

In August, 1931, Dempsey filed suit for divorce in Reno. He charged cruelty. Miss Taylor then filed suit against him in Los Angeles. A property settlement later was agreed on and Miss Taylor dropped her suit here and permitted Jack to get the divorce in Reno.

It was significant that Jack Kearns, who managed Dempsey into the world's heavyweight title, was not present when he married Miss Taylor.

PAIR SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

SEAL BEACH, July 18.—Earl F. Elvinger and James D. Anderson, truck drivers, both of Los Angeles, were arrested Saturday on charges brought by D. R. Paul and G. W. Hammon, state humane officers, and J. F. Hammon, of the Dog Owners' Protective Bureau of California. They were arraigned before Judge Smith in the local police court yesterday on charges of cruelty to animals. The pair were arrested as they arrived at the Dr. Ross Dog Food factory in Los Alamitos from Arizona with a truckload of horses. The complaint of the humane officers charged that there were 17 horses loaded on the truck, which was only 15 feet long; of this number, 12 were already dead and had been trampled on by the others, two were in such condition that the officers were forced to shoot them. The men were fined $250 each or one day in the county jail for each $2, the term to be served not to exceed 90 days. The two were unable to pay the fine, so were sent to the jail yesterday afternoon.

GOLF COURSE AIR FIREWORKS COSTS THEM LIGHT TOURNEY

SAN CLEMENTE, July 18.—Recommendation that the whole course be kept up was the substance of the report made by the golf course committee at the Taxpayers' league meeting.

The resolution recently brought before the city council by Councilman O. R. Robertson, commissioner, proposed a reduction in maintenance cost of the municipal course. According to Robertson's figures the present total cost per month is $404 which provides for upkeep of the entire golf course, by discontinuing water for the fairways and keeping up the greens alone, the saving in labor and water would bring the monthly total down to $230.

The matter was referred to the Taxpayers' league before any action by the council members. The committee appointed by E. L. Holloway comprised P. W. Smith, Ole Hanson, R. R. Dyer, A. E. Adams and A. Galeski. Four members, Ole Hanson being absent, inspected the course thoroughly and recommended a man be put in full charge of watering, greens and fairways and all equipment needed for care of same; that fairway mowers can be sharpened and overhauled with very little expense to the city and a second-hand engine was recommended for the tractor.

The report was subjected to much discussion. Owing to the tax situation there are many opposed to keeping up the golf course, as it has never paid. W. A. Ayers and Trafford Hutcheson voiced the opinion of those favoring it and urged that it be kept as usual for a few months longer.

Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts first thing every morning in a glass of hot water. If not joyfully satisfied with results of one small jar (lasts 4 weeks) money back from McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, or any drugstore the world over. But make sure you get Kruschen—the SAFE way to reduce. Adv.

NEWPORT ISLAND, July 18.—The first of a series of water sports programs, including swimming contests and motor boat races, was held in the waters around Newport Island in West Newport Beach yesterday afternoon.

The course run was five times around the island, making a distance of four miles. The best time made was six minutes and 43 seconds.

The swimming contest was divided into three classes, boys, girls and free for all over 13 years of age. Miss Jean Hilliard won the girls' event, Buddy Sisson won for boys under 13 years and Lewis Thomson won the free for all.

LA HABRA MURDER

Brought home to her more vividly than anything that day the constant menace which hovered over her. But she sponged off quickly and appeared, cool and perfectly calm, to ensconce herself by the window toward the water.

"We can't count him out altogether," Tom answered slowly. "He hasn't explained and he won't explain all there is against him and, while I think that's just stubborn Cattle pride, it leaves him still open to suspicion. Yet on the whole he pretty well cleared himself."

"And pretty well implicated Mr. Statlander."

Tom threw her a quick, appreciative glance.

"You saw that, too? Yes—he turned me a complexion from himself very neatly."

"And there was something about the way he said it that rang true. That bit about how Mr. Statlander turned away as if he didn't want to see—"

"I thought of that. It's the type of thing that's hard to make up."

"And what he said about the towel fitted in."

"There's a fit. He could have invented all that after you told him about the attack and how you found the towel in Statlander's hamper."

"But on the whole I believe him."

"And on the whole, so do I." They smiled at each other.

"Now," said Linda, lowering her voice instinctively, "we come to Mr. Statlander. He certainly seems our best suspect."

"There's a fit against him. I've heard in the office that he's efficient as the devil, but with a terrible temper and the conceit of a Prussian officer. For all he's older than any of us here, he has that thick-set, sturdy physique that often means abnormal strength, and he's in splendid condition. His temper—well, I can testify he has one—and he's certainly acted strangely at these days. This morning, for instance, I found him looking up the chimney in the drawing room fireplace. And he had no explanation or apology to make when I came in. Asked me if it drew well, as I remember."

"I know. I heard him and it struck me as perfectly ridiculous. But that's no sign he murdered Cousin Amos."

"No, but it's a sign he's a little nutty. Who'd ever do that in his right mind?"

"I'm sure I don't know. And as for the personal questions he's asked me—and questions about

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR LAGUNA ARTS FESTIVAL

LAGUNA BEACH, July 18.—Consent of all property owners in El Paseo assures the holding in that thoroughfare the principal center of attraction of the Festival of Arts, August 20 to September 4, known as the "street market," according to Andrew S. Hall, chairman of the festival's general committee. Thirty booths, 10 by 6 feet, will display arts and crafts of Laguna Beach.

Erection of an amusement platform in the center of the booth space has been planned. Each evening there will be a street parade of costumed figures, actors and horseback, representing the characters in famous masterpieces. The parade will end at El Paseo, and there the characters will pose on the stage. There will be many vaudeville features.

Civic organizations are subscribing for booths. The Chamber of Commerce and the Laguna Beach Water district have engaged booths and will have artistic displays.

Features of the festival include a horse parade and horse show; a three-day bowling tournament that will bring lawn bowlers from the 15 clubs of Southern California; exhibitions at the Art Gallery and in the artists' studios; and a sou-vent program will be published that will give a history of the Laguna Beach Art Colony.

LETTER FROM TRAVAGLINI TO GERMANY SAYS BE MARRIED IN BERLIN QUIET

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—Of particular interest to San Clemente people is the marriage that will occur in Las Cruces, New Mexico, Monday, July 24, when Miss Avelina Duarte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sixto Duarte of Las Cruces, will become the bride of Antonio Mario Travaglini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Achilles Travaglini.

Miss Duarte is a graduate of the University of California and while in Berkeley became a member of Casa Hispana Sorority. She is a descendant of Spanish families that settled in New Mexico at an early date. The wedding ceremony will take place in church and will be conducted according to old Spanish customs.

After a motor trip of two weeks duration the pair will return to San Clemente and take up their residence on Avenida Serra where they will welcome their friends.

The groom who has been engaged with his father in Travaglini's cafe in San Clemente from the time he was a month old, has recently become its manager. Mr. Travaglini will on Saturday, July 22 open a new cafe "Travaglini's, Inc." at 6700 Wilshire Boulevard in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Travaglini moved to Los Angeles a month ago with their daughter, Miss Lela Travaglini.

waterway, his letter says, "consisting of lakes, rivers and canals, extends all the way to the North Sea, at Hamburg, thence on around to Laguna and Newport Beach, California."

"Yes. He's inquisitive as the devil. But neither does that necessarily mean that he's murderous." Linda shivered. "That's a terrible word, Tom."

"I know." He sobered quickly. "Binks—we can call in the police the first thing in the morning—or even tonight."

"There'll still be time," she said. "Till after dinner tomorrow we stick to our guns. Have you planned any line of attack for the day?"

"If we eliminate Shaughnessy, we have Statlander, Pratt and DeVos to be considered. Suppose you let me tackle Pratt in the morning. I'll do my best—not worry about my getting along with him."

She laughed.

"All right. You can do it if you really try."

"As for Statlander—in the first place, he is still to be prevailed upon to stay, and while I think he will, if he refuses, that spills the beans. Then you'll have to pump him about the towel. That's your end of the house. DeVos we can both have in mind. I don't like that break about getting to the room before I did."

"Oh, must I wrangle with that Statlander man again?" groaned Linda. "That seems almost more than I can bear!"

"Perhaps I can help you some. I'll try. But I know one thing. Binks, I shan't let you out of my sight with him after this."

"Could he break me in two as easily as he did the golf club?" she teased, but at sight of his face repented. "Sorry, Tommy! Somehow I still can't believe it. Well—it's time for you to go down. I do think we made some progress, don't you?"

"Yes—some," he said soberly, but inwardly he felt far more dubious over their probable success than he had 12 hours earlier. They had something on everybody—but nothing convincingly definite on anybody. Well, the night might bring counsel! He waited in the hall until he heard the little click of the key turning, then went slowly downstairs.

Linda, left alone, found sleep harder to coax than she had expected. She heard more faintly than from the hall the even measure of what she supposed to be Mr. Statlander's slumbers. She heard the crush of gravel as Annie and Rosie returned and their whispers and movement in the kitchen below as they—she hoped—left everything in order for the night. And sooner far than she would have anticipated she heard voices in the lower hall, the purr of a self-starter as the Stokers' chauffeur turned over

BRIDE ELECT COMPLIMENTED WITH SHOWER

GARDEN GROVE, July 18.—Miss Margaret Gardner, bride-elect of Leonard Matland, was complimented with a miscellaneous 8-wed. Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Ray Raefsnider on East Acacia street.

At the refreshment hour, Mrs. Raefsnider was assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. C. Matland, Mrs. Wayne Raefsnider, Mrs. John Mitchell Jr. and Mrs. Richard Haster. A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the nut cups, place cards and the brick ice cream centered with hearts, which was served with dainty cakes and coffee. A miniature bride and groom under a bower of ferns decorated the mantle. Baskets of mixed flowers were used for decorations throughout the house.

GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

his engine, and the farewells of the departure.

Then Tom's voice in the upper hall, bidding the two men good night, and she was out of bed and at the door to open it again before he knocked.

After that, with the sense of relief and return to normal which his presence gave, she fell into a sleep so deep, so dreamless, that it seemed but the passing of a moment before she woke to find the room filled with morning sun and knew that the final day of their adventurous week-end had come.

Feeling the sense of conscious virtue which for some reason early waking gives, she decided she would get up and dress, if she could, without rousing her husband. Sitting up in bed, however, she perceived Tom by the window, evidently wide awake and ready for what the day might bring. At the sound of her stirring, he turned at once.

"Hello, Binks. Awake for good or going back to sleep?"

"Awake and going to get right up. Has anything happened?"

"Nothing—yet. I've been thinking things over though, honey, and I feel more encouraged than I did last night." He glanced at the clock. "Why don't you bathe and dress, then come over here and we can talk a bit before we have to go down."

Ten minutes later she was ready—her shower-wet hair combed in sleek waves, her eyes eager, her brown legs curled on the chaise longue near the big chair whence he had watched her rapid toilet appreciatively.

"And they talk about the feminine vanity of lingering over the ritual of dressing!" he murmured. "That's one of my bachelor delusions that matrimony has completely destroyed."

"Not everyone is such a rapid fire artist as I," retorted Linda. "Having to work taught me lots besides office politics."

"But I've been working for years," offered Tom meekly. "Much longer than you ever did. And I can't touch you for speed."

"Darling—you're a man," said Linda brightly and appeared to think she had ended the discussion. After an eloquent look, her husband changed the subject.

"Well," he said, "speaking of getting down to work—"

"Yes, Tommy?"

"Do you realize how much depends on what happens today?"

"Do I? Everything depends on that all! Did anything happen last night that I should know about?"

ASKS GROWERS TO USE STATE, FEDERAL ACTS

Southern California growers, particularly those engaged in the raising of crops not grown in other sections of the country, were advised to avail themselves of the California Proration act in effecting surplus control agreements thus stabilizing the market, in an address delivered this afternoon by Dr. E. A. Stokdyk, agricultural economist, before a group of business and agricultural leaders at the Green Cat cafe.

In this connection, the speaker suggested that producers of dried and canned fruit and vegetables, coming into direct competition with the output of other states, avail themselves of the provisions of the Federal Agricultural Adjustment act.

Ralph J. McFadden, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, presided over the meeting, which was attended by Supervisors William C. Jerome and George Jeffrey, heads of various marketing organizations, prominent bankers and well known citrus growers. The farm bureau staff was represented by Secretary Roland E. Flanagan, Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg was among those present.

Explaining the circumstances that led up to the enactment of the National Industry Recovery act, and the Federal Agricultural Adjustment act, the speaker said that the main purpose of the three measures was to give the effect of law to marketing programs entered into between the members of a certain industry.

Under provisions of the state proration law, it was explained, 50 persons or more can present a petition to the state prorate law commission, asking for an election on shipment proration. To avoid hasty and ill-advised action, the petitioners are required to deposit double the amount of the cost of an election, the speaker declared. Likewise, two-thirds of an industry in a given zone or locality, represented in the number of growers and in tonnage of produce, can file a similar petition, in which case the proration of shipments is ordered into effect without an election, the economist stated. He also went on to explain that co-operative marketing organizations, holding contracts with its participating members for controlling surplus products, can represent its entire membership, both in number of growers and tonnage, on such petitions.

After acting upon a petition filed by growers, the proration shipment commission will appoint a committee of seven members, five of whom must be growers and two handlers of the commodity, which committee is charged with drafting of a suitable program of operation. Each grower residing in the zone or district covered by the program will be issued a certificate of shipment, which, being negotiable and transferable, can be exchanged between growers in order to obtain desired results, he said.

Touching upon the legal phase of the different stabilization acts, Dr. Stokdyk ventured the opinion that if their constitutionality was challenged in the courts, they would be upheld by the tribunals. In this connection, the economist remarked that a liberal interpretation would be placed on all laws designed to promote the common good. He also called attention to the new economic policy enunciated by the new administration of collective or group action as against individual enterprise.

BOYS RETURN FROM Y. CAMP IN MOUNTAINS

Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. boys returned from Camp Osceola Monday evening after one of the most delightful periods ever spent in that popular "Y" camp, according to those who enjoyed it. Perfect weather, an interesting program, and excellent food combined to make the outing a success with all who attended.

The places vacated by these returning boys were at once taken by a company of younger boys who went in for the one week "Friendly Indian" camp. Santa Ana boys who went, to join with boys from other parts of the county, were Richard Roehm, Eugene Fuller, Bud Dale, Frank Wells, Howard Rapp, Philip Lamm, Arthur Beard and Bruce Ragan. ## CIVIC CENTER PLAN AILED AT COUNCIL MEET

PLACENTIA, July 18.—Placentia city councilmen last night considered plans of buildings for a new city hall, and discussed placement of the new civic center, that their program may be ready to fit in with that of the federal government in the construction to be done on the National Industrial Recovery act.

The committee on sites for the building reported the lots on the east side of Bradford avenue, between Santa Fe avenue and Center street may be obtained at reasonable figures.

A prolonged discussion on placement of a jail in the new program occupied a good part of the time. Attorney William Wade pointed out that details will not have to be completed, but that a general idea of costs will have to be submitted, according to his raiding of the act.

City Attorney Albert Lamer assisted in making a tentative budget for the year, and prepared a set up, based on last year's budget, on which councilmen will work to prepare the proposed budget for next year. It was figured that a general reduction will amount to about 10 per cent, and cutting will have to be made in many lines.

JURY GETS CASE INVOLVING YOUTHS

Pate of two well-known Orange county youths, accused by the district attorney's office with contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls, went to a jury in department three superior court at noon today.

Completion of testimony in the case against Kenneth McMillan and Ernest Ingersoll was completed yesterday afternoon. The morning session of court was devoted to argument by D. G. Wetlin, attorney for the accused youths, and Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris.

The boys were accused of having contributed to the delinquency of the two girls, 15 and 14 years old, by keeping them out until a late hour, providing them with intoxicating liquor and with a statutory offense.

Testimony of the two girls was the principal evidence introduced against the youths and was corroborated by the unwilling testimony of Clarence Newberry, who was with the two youths and girls during a portion of the evening on which the offenses were alleged to have been committed.

Mrs. Ingersoll, mother of one of the accused youths, declared this morning that her son did not accompany the girls and others on a trip to Midway City when a pint of liquor is said to have been purchased and partially consumed.

County Growers Hear Noted Economist This Evening

DR. STOKDYK TO GIVE TALK IN ANAHEIM PARK

Market stabilization and surplus control, as they may be effected by the recent enactments of the state legislature and the last Congress, will be analyzed by Dr. A. Stokdyk, agricultural economist of the Klamm foundation, University of California, at a growers' mass meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Anaheim Park stadium.

Stokdyk spoke in Santa Ana at noon today at a luncheon conference of packing house managers and farm leaders. At this meeting the speaker outlined the direct bearing of the California ports act on the citrus industry in California.

Stokdyk, who is one of the outstanding authorities in California on surplus control of farm crops, is in Orange county under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and the farm bureau. He will review the possibilities of crop and market adjustments for Orange county and California crops through the adoption of either the state or federal laws by any farm group that elects to undertake regulation of shipments, marketing and production.

The speaker is the author of the original draft of the Assembly Bill No. 1122, known as the California Prorate act, which was passed by both houses of the state legislature by good majorities and recently signed by Governor Rolph.

In announcing tonight's meeting, Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg says that its purpose is purely educational. The national readjustment program is developing so rapidly and events are happening so fast that it has been difficult for the average grower and citizen to keep up with the march of events in the new deal, he stated.

Hundreds of inquiries have come to the farm advisor's office and farm bureau offices concerning the various provisions of the new legislation. For these reasons the mass meeting of growers was arranged at the Anaheim park.

Ralph McFadden, president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, who will preside at the Anaheim meeting, extends an invitation to all growers of farm products and livestock in Orange county to attend.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON By George Durno

BREAD

Insiders at the Agriculture Department will tell you behind their hands they picked a hot potato when they jumped on the bakers for profiteering in bread.

As a matter of fact our agricultural adjusters went off half-cooked.

That's the lowdown back of the waning bread investigation.

A news service collected bread price "statistics" from some 160 odd cities. The story thus assembled hit federal farm chiefs between the eyes over the breakfast table one morning. It showed the cost of a loaf of bread had leaped two and three times.

Arriving at the office they plunged into action. The department's publicity staff let loose a blast against such unwarranted gouging of the public.

Bingo! The war was on.

Henry Stude, president of the American Bakers' association, taxied down to the agricultural department with blood in his eye.

"Stop this baseless innuendo," he demanded. "Show me one single case of profiteering."

Belatedly, departmental agents went out to check the situation.

Alas, they couldn't find any evidence of gouging, concerted or isolated. The department itself had conceded rising flour prices and other costs warranted an increase of a cent and a half a loaf. Where bakers had boosted the ante by two or three cents they had increased the size of the loaf they sold.

Agricultural publicity headquarters promptly began moderating the tone of its press releases.

The top men wisely decided it would be bad business to further irritate the bakers.

Breadmakers have one problem in the biggest cities that doesn't appear in the rising commodity indexes.

That is racketeering.

Baking officials will point, among other places, to Chicago. In Caponatown bakers must pay their drivers $43 a week. A driver is able to sell about $34 worth of bread a week.

All of which makes the overhead pretty steep.

WHEAT

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and Farm Administrator Peek are about to decide what to do in the way of curtailing next year's wheat acreage. They are having their moments with this puzzle.

Having applied the processing tax to wheat, they insist acreage must be reduced in 1934.

One school of thought is arguing vigorously against the idea. Drought has played havoc with certain wheat sections this year. There is a current domestic shortage of over a billion bushels in all cereals.

If the sun should shine too hot and long next year, points out this faction, we might find ourselves in a mess.

The Agricultural adjustment act empowers Wallace and Peek to require those farmers subscribing of the processing tax feature to cut next year's planting up to 20 per cent.

Those who have been following the situation closest are guessing the farm dictators will call for a curtailment of 10 per cent.

Drought-area farmers are getting a real break out of this processing tax incidentally. This is because production is based on a three-year average.

Out Kansas way the wheat crop is 'way off this year. If the Kansas farmers had to take their share of mill tax benefits on the 1933 threshing they'd get just about one-third of what they stand to receive as the law stacks up.

APPLES

President Roosevelt pulled a boner at a recent press conference that caught all of the newsmen napping.

The executive was talking about an impending trade reciprocity agreement with the Argentine. He explained, for example, that under it Argentine apples would come in here when our apples were out of season and vice versa.

This was duly recorded in American papers and cabled to Argentine.

There was only one hitch. The Argentine has no apples for export.

COAL

A bituminous coal code of sorts is now reposing on Industrial Administrator Johnson's desk. It represents about 28 per cent of the industry's production.

Those signing it and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers say the other operators will adhere. In the end a greater portion of the soft coal fields probably will be forced into some kind of an agreement.

To hear certain operators talk privately—particularly those from some of the southern fields—you'd think they were willing to die first.

This faction is shouting poverty and despair to the high heavens. They are preparing arguments right and left to prove it would be humanly impossible for them to accept the submitted code.

Here's a sample voiced by one Southern operator:

He furnishes houses for his miners to live in. From them he should collect $8 a month rent apiece. Taking into consideration his investment and the number of empties, this is cut to $4 monthly each for an average.

And finally, because a lot of miners occupying these houses can't pay their rent, he estimates the average is down to $2.

NOTES

One of the towns listed by the Agriculture Department in which bread profiteering was alleged to exist was South St. Joe, Mo. . . . A newspaperman familiar with South St. Joe called the Department and asked how come? . . . He said there wasn't anything in the place but a flock of cattle pens belonging to the stockyards. . . . Senator McNary, Republican floor leader, just had his little joke on Farm Administrator Peek . . . knowing how much Peek disliked the last administration McNary sent him a copy of one of last year's farm bills. . . . "I enclosed," he wrote, "a copy of the Hoover-Hyde-Peek farm bill—a forerunner of the present legislation" . . . News associations with South American clients got so caustic comments back over the wire on the Argentine apple story.

INDUSTRY

Chalk up another home run for the New Deal.

The rush to file codes in the past few days is due to some skilful bat swinging from Washington. New York (and other) Tories had their ears pinned back by a series of line drives off their favorite curves.

The threat to establish a blanket code of wages and hours for all industry cleared the bases.

You never saw so many business men trying to think fast in your life. Until Donald Richberg's warning speech ten days ago they had mostly been stalling in the hope the game would be called off. Then they started to move—but they still figured they had sixty days. Now with a blanket code in the offing they are covering ground like Olympic sprinters. Their own codes cannot pos-

OIL FIRE DATA PRESENTED AT BEACH DINNER

Inside facts of the explosion and fire in the Signal Hill oil field June 2 that caused nine deaths and did heavy property damage were told to members of the Orange County Firemen's association last night in the city hall at Seal Beach by Capt. E. L. Albrecht and Chief Adolph Fell of the Signal Hill department. Intended as a technical story of fire-fight, Capt. Albrecht's talk became a dramatic recital of the events of a major conflagration and he told for the first time, as the result of a careful investigation, that the fire actually gained only half a block in the direction of the wind after the major explosion.

Hampered by falling telegraph poles and other debris, it was two and a half minutes before the firemen reached the scene and had lined up streams against the blaze. Within 10 minutes, 10 pieces of apparatus and 100 firemen from Long Beach were working. Six hundred men, working on a stadium under the R. F. C. plan, were transported quickly and used to shovel dirt in an effort to stop the streams of flaming oil running through the streets.

Chief Fell said the actual damage, based on the adjusters' estimates, was between $300,000 and $325,000, although early estimates had placed the total damage into the millions.

Capt. M. M. Clement of the Long Beach department told in detail the insurance plan for firemen, available to the volunteer as well as the paid firefighter, that will be presented to the state convention at Woodland, in August, for ratification.

President D. R. Woodward thanked the several committees for their part in the success of the annual Southern California picnic held in Irvine park and announced that all expenses had been met.

The address of welcome was made by Mayor Elmer J. Hughes. At the auxiliary meeting, Mrs. George Garbarino, county president, was elected delegate to the Woodland convention.

Entertainment was furnished by Lewis Kinderman, baritone of Long Beach, who was accompanied by Miss Lucille Woodin, of Seal Beach, and by Joan Blackburn and Shirley Kingsbury in tap dances, and by Robert Ferrin and Joan Blackburn, adagio dancers, in a "slave" dance.

COUNTY TESTS 17 HERDS FOR MONTH OF JUNE

There were 17 herds tested in June by L. W. Garretson, tester, for the dairy department of the Orange County Farm Bureau. These herds had 1191 cows, averaging 1024 pounds of milk and 40.9 pounds of butterfat. Five hundred and ninety-five cows produced 40 pounds of butterfat or more for the month and 21 head were culled out.

In the cow competition classes, Peter DeBoer, of Buena Park, was first and H. L. Wakeham, of Greenville, second in herds under 35 cows, with herd averages of 46.8 pounds butterfat and 42.0 pounds butterfat, respectively.

The Delos Patterson herd of Talbert was first in herds of 36 to 65 cows, with an average of 46 pounds of butterfat. Positions of first and second went to Otto Pokereis, Huntington Beach, with an average of 44.2 pounds butterfat, and Aliso Dairy, Greenville, with an average of 44.0 pounds butterfat, respectively, in herds of over 65 cows.

The Daisy View Holstein farm, cow No. 21, took first individual honors with 104.9 pounds of butterfat, and Aliso dairy cow No. 228 won second with 88.7 pounds of butterfat.

The winnings were reversed in the high five cows, with Aliso dairy getting an average of 82.7 pounds of butterfat, and the Daisy View Holstein farm 80.9 pounds of butterfat.

Included in the group were the Misses Elmore McGarvin, Eldora Finley, Shirley Day, Annabel Day, MaryLou Hare, Peggy Woods, Shirley Lou Reeves, Ollamae Hensley, Phyllis Snow, Valerie Snow, Mary Eastwood and Ray Short and Bruce Barnols of Santa Ana; Bob Hosack, Joe Hosack, Frank Ewert, Bud Hare, Howard McGuire, Nelson Morgan, Bill Dunstan, Joe Pattison, Kenneth Peters, Los Angeles; Donald Moore, Huntington Beach.

Orange Girl Is Feted At Party

TUSTIN, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown were hosts at a pleasant affair Saturday when they entertained at their home on Pacific avenue in a observance of the birthday anniversary of Miss Inez Hickman, of Orange.

A delicious chicken dinner was enjoyed at the prettily appointed dining table. The last course of the menu featured ice cream and a birthday cake.

Those sharing the happy occasion with the honoree, Miss Hickman, were her sister, Mrs. Marlin Bowen, of Los Angeles; James Pickering, of Fullerton, Mrs. R. H. McArthur, of Orange, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

SAYS CONTROL OF PRODUCTION IS NECESSARY

Farmers are asking, "What about the present price level of farm products? Is production control necessary now that farm prices are advancing?"

In answer, the Agricultural Extension service says inflation alone will not restore the pre-war purchasing power of the over-produced commodities, cotton, wheat, corn, hogs, rice and tobacco. The increases in prices since the first of March were due in part to anticipation of the probable effect of general inflationary measures, and in part to anticipation of the effect of production adjustments possible under the new farm act, it was stated.

Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg reports that higher prices caused by inflation alone may tend to increase production and to intensify the actual maladjustment between production and effective demand for farm products.

"Desirable as a rise in the general price level is, under existing conditions it must be accompanied by production control unless and until our nominal markets are restored," Wahlberg said. "Without controlled production, no price-lifting effort can possibly work; because if there is no control of production, the better price increases the next year's planting, and the greater harvest wrecks the price."

"Over a long time period stabilization of marketing our local specialized crops, such as citrus, will involve control of new acreage as well as present production. The orchard and farm industries cannot expect to obtain permanent relief unless they recognize the importance of regulated planting and production."

In Latvia, the peasant woman plants carrots by placing the seeds in her mouth and squirting them into the furrows as she walks along.

SCHOOL BUDGET HEARING HELD THIS EVENING

Public hearing on the tentative budget of the Santa Ana Board of education for the fiscal year 1933-34 is scheduled for tonight at the board office in the School Administration building, Tenth and Main streets.

The tentative budget, as approved several weeks ago by the school board, calls for a total estimated expenditure of $765,226.72 or a reduction of $52,516.14 under the 1932-33 budget and a reduction of $84,236.12 over actual expenditures last year.

Tax rates for operating expenses under the proposed budget are scheduled to remain at the same point as this year, 24 cents in the junior college district, 52 cents in the high school district and 45 cents in the elementary district. These rates will be necessary to produce required revenues despite the reduction in expenses, as a decrease of approximately 10 per cent in the assessed valuations will cut the income to be derived from the application of the tax rate.

Bond interest and redemption rates, which are to be set by the supervisors, will be higher than this year, it is anticipated.

BEAN GROWERS STAGE PICNIC NEXT SATURDAY

Bean growers of Orange county will hold their annual picnic at Irvine park Saturday, starting with a basket luncheon at noon. The picnic is sponsored by the Bean Growers' department of the Orange County Farm Bureau, of which John A. Murdy Jr. is the chairman.

All bean growers and their families are invited to attend the picnic, whether they are members of the farm bureau or not. Baked lima beans, toasted bread, coffee and watermelon will be furnished free by the California Lima Bean Growers' association, but those attending are requested to bring their own eating and serving utensils, and any other food they may desire in addition to the above items.

Following the picnic luncheon a short program of interest to bean growers will be presented, featuring R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers' association, who will outline the marketing situation and the probable outlook and plans for the coming season. R. W. Blackburn, state president of the farm bureau, is scheduled to outline the part that the national farm bureau is playing in the "New Deal" at Washington. Mr. Blackburn has been "on the job" at Washington until quite recently, and has discussed California's requirements with the national leaders and legislative committees.

At the conclusion of the short speaking program, Fred Pope, of Talbert, will take charge of a baseball game between the Smeitzer district growers and those from the remainder of the county.

BARK CONTROL MEETING SET FOR THURSDAY

A demonstration for citrus growers in the western part of Orange county will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. under the auspices of the Cypress Farm center and the Agricultural Extension service. Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg announces that several phases of tree care will be featured, including a demonstration of orange pruning, a demonstration of scaly bark control and the treatment of a gophered tree by the inarch grafting method.

The standard method of scaly bark control by thorough scraping and followed by the application of a simple, cheap, disinfectant will be shown.

For the growers who did not attend the last demonstration of inarch grafting for trees girdled by gophers, an opportunity will be given at this field meeting to witness the details involved.

The pruning of orange trees will also be demonstrated by the Farm Advisor.

Citrus growers will meet at the H. B. O'Donald orchard, located on Walker street, one-half mile directly south of the town of Cypress. Some special problems relating to the fertilization and irrigation of the citrus trees in the western part of the county will be discussed in addition to the demonstrations mentioned.

The inarching demonstration will be done at O. P. Bunyard's orchard nearby, following the demonstrations of pruning and scaly bark at O'Donald's place. The meeting is open to all growers.

BROADWAY THEATER REOPENS TOMORROW

Complete renovation of the Broadway theater, which is scheduled for its re-opening here tomorrow night, was completed today by workmen who have been cleaning the house for the past several days.

The theater, closed since May 12, will open with the picture "The Silk Express," a murder mystery, the plot of which takes place on a fast passenger train. Excitement, suspense, and the unrivaled of the mystery makes its particularly interesting.

The Broadway theater, under the Capitol theater banner, will be operated by Milton B. Arthur, of Long Beach and Lester J. Fountain, city manager for the West Coast theaters will be in direct charge. Most all of the former personnel of the theater will be employed, it was announced and the same service policy which has always made the Broadway theater the biggest entertainment house in the city will be maintained.

Chibingorsk, a Russian city founded three years ago on the Kola peninsula in the Arctic ocean, already has a population of 30,000.

Winfield Bocher of Garden Grove has been among the recent visitors there, and Ralph Bradley was the week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. E. M. Bradley who is making a more extended stay.

Luncheon Precedes Afternoon of Games

One of the summer's lovely events was a luncheon given late last week by Mrs. Leon Mosher and Mrs. L. C. Larsen, in the latter's home, 2018 Greenleaf street.

Guests were seated at three tables whose decorations carried out a theme of yellow and blue, from the centerpiece, fashioned of yellow crepe paper to the yellow nuptials and place cards. Mixed bouquets of yellow and blue completed the pretty scene. Following the delectable menu guests adjourned to the gardens at the rear of the home, where a variety of games occupied their attention.

For the first game, a prize of a vase of fragrant roses was awarded Mrs. R. R. Bowie, Miss Demaris Moon received a pot of cactus for scoring high in the second game, and Mrs. J. C. LaSaulnier was given an amusing prize for the last and most humorous game.

Present were Mesdames J. M. Barlow, N. G. Gibson, of Santa Ana; J. C. LaSaulnier, C. W. Heckman, E. V. Heckman, George Garrett, W. D. Morgan, Walter Callahan, of Los Angeles; John Wallace, Mae Baldwin of Anaheim; May Davison, R. R. Bowie and Miss Demaris Moon, of Long Beach, and the hostesses, Mrs. Leon Mosher and Mrs. L. C. Larsen.

Mrs. E. E. Keech Has New Grandson, Born In Washington

Apprised by wireless of the birth yesterday, July 17, of a little son to her son-in-law and daughter, Lieutenant and Mrs. C. C. Ray of Washington, D. C., Mrs. E. E. Keech, 319 South Main street, today was receiving warm congratulations upon her second grandson within the year.

The sturdy little Washingtonian was born to Mrs. Ray (formerly Madeline Keech) yesterday in Garfield hospital, Washington, D. C., and will be christened Daniel Boyle Ray, his second name being the maiden name of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Keech. Mother and child are doing splendidly according to the wireless message, and after due time in the hospital will rejoin Lieutenant Ray in the pretty suburban home in Clarendon across the Potomac river in Virginia, where the Rays are domiciled for their year in the national capital.

Lieutenant Ray has completed his year of post graduate study at the Naval Academy at Annapolis and has been assigned to the Bureau of Navigation in Washington for a year. Master Daniel Boyle Ray now shares Mrs. Keech's pride in her grandchildren of 1933, with little Roger Allen Keech, born in March to Mr. and Mrs. Dana Keech of Glendale. Mrs. Dana Keech was Miss Jewel Hickox, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Hickox of Laguna Beach.

Girl Scouts Return From Camp Near Big Basin

Returning yesterday from Camp Chaparral, Girl Scout camp in the Redwood forest, were Nancydel Russell and June Blodgett, who were brought home by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Blodgett. Carolyn Rogers, who was escorted to the camp with the other two girls by Miss Doll Silvey two weeks ago, will remain for another two weeks. Mrs. R. R. Russick, leader of local Scout troop No. 1, and her daughter, Jean, and Margaret Rutan were brought home Sunday by Mrs. A. W. Rutan and daughter, Miss Harriet, who motored to Big Basin Saturday evening. The party had been accompanied to the camp by Mr. Russick and Master Bobby Russick.

A strictly out-of-door life was led by the girls who composed part of a group of 198 members and leaders in attendance. Sleeping and eating were accomplished outside, with all girls taking part in camp duties, and the cooking under supervision of three domestic science teachers, who are expert dietitians. Nature geology, sketching, puppetry and an assortment of handicraft courses were a few of the events offered.

The regional camp is in charge of Miss Vaal Stark, and included representatives from California, Oregon, Washington and Hawaii. While in attendance, Mrs. Russick took a course in Troop Progress given by Miss Thelma Trott of National Girl Scout Headquarters. A special event during the Santa Anans' stay was the visit of ex-President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover to the camp. Mrs. Hoover was formerly honorary president of the Girl Scouts.

Announcement has been made of another Girl Scout camp which will convene from August 2 to 9, at Camp Rokill. The camp is accredited and limited, and has room for ten more girls at this time. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. R. R. Russick, at 4375-W.

Five of America's great wars began in April: Revolutionary on the 19th, Mexican on the 24th, Civil on the 12th, Spanish-American on the 19th and World war on the 6th.

The Kansans left this morning for their home planning to travel by way of San Francisco and Salt Lake City, completing a summer of touring which included a visit to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago before coming to California. The only thing to mar their Santa Ana visit was an accident at one of the nearby beaches whereby the 8-year-old son of the visitors suffered a dislocated elbow.

Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Newcomb of Urbana, Ill., have arrived for a mid-summer visit with California relatives. At present they are with Mr. Newcomb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newcomb, 611 South Main street, and will divide their time between the parental home and that of his brother, Fred Newcomb Jr., Tustin avenue, and of a sister living in San Bernardino. Rexford Newcomb is dean of the College of Fine Arts of the University of Illinois.

The two will also visit a brother, Claud Richards, in San Diego, and will return home by way of Santa Barbara, Yosemite, San Francisco and Salt Lake City. Yesterday was spent by the Eshoms and their guests at Laguna Beach, where the Kansans had their first experience of ocean bathing.

Surprise Shower Given For Bride-elect Of Sunday

A surprise shower for Miss Beverly Nichols, who on Sunday next will wed Jack Rimel, was an event Saturday evening, given in the home of Mrs. C. E. Bennett, Memory Lane. Mrs. Bennett will be a new sister-in-law of the bride. Pink and white dahlias, roses and maidenhair fern which decorated the home were especially lovely, and were selected from the gardens of Mrs. Edith Minter. Bridge and hearts were played informally during the evening, at the close of which the honoree was presented with a handsome set of breakfast dishes, the gift of the group.

Guests were then seated about the long dining table, where a refreshment course of ice cream and cake was served. The pink and white theme was again repeated in table appointments with the use of pink and white glassware and pink tapers, which shed a soft glow over the table.

Invited guests in addition to the honoree, Miss Nichols, and the hostess, Mrs. Bennett, were: Mesdames Arthur Gillespie, Huntington Beach; A. W. Rimel, John Taylor, Ernest Hill and son, Jerry, and the Misses Lucille Howell, Norma Wilson, Maxine Decker, Lucille Bennett, Kathryn Sexton, Evelyn Chandler, Edna Hall, Ruth Rimel, Betty Vorce, Betty Purdue, all of Santa Ana, and June Rimel of Huntington Beach.

Travels Through India Provides Theme for B. P. W. Program

Privileged to see India through the eyes of one recently returned from that romantic land, Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club members last night gave close attention to an engrossing account given by Miss Lula Minter of her travels and experiences in northern India.

Making Bombay her starting point, Miss Minter gave a graphic description of life in that city, accompanying her talk with motion picture reels of the varied and interesting street life. Members found special interest in her account of native life including peculiar customs. Travel in India she found attended by certain complications, for the train backed porters such as American travel bosses, and this made it necessary to take along servants to make up the berths at night and do the countless things that porter service offers in this country.

Calcutta and Benares were described in fascinating detail, as were some of the abandoned cities which dot the land, abandoned when rulers decided to build capitol elsewhere. Some of these palaces have been carefully preserved, according to Miss Minter, while others have been looted of their treasures and left to the jungle.

Mrs. Marie Fowler, B. P. W. president, called attention to the district meeting to be held in La Jolla during August.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes and family of Tulare returned to their home Tuesday after a ten days' visit with Mr. Barnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barnes of North Tustin avenue.

Mrs. Roy Adams will entertain members of the Priscilla club Wednesday at the Adams cottage at Newport Beach.

Mrs. LeRoy Warren and sons of Ione are spending a few weeks at their home on Villa Park road. Mr. Warren will join his family a little later in the summer, for his vacation from his duties at Preston State School.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Adams entertained their children and other relatives at dinner Sunday at their home on East Collins avenue. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Hughes and daughter, Margaret, of Olive; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hanselman and daughter, Beverly, and son, Wayne, of Palm Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Marten of Santa Ana; Mr. A. S. Adams; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams and son, George; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams and son, Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Adams and son, Philip, and daughter, Mary Jane, and baby; Mr. and Mrs. Verne Robinson and little son, Frank; Mr. George Good of Missouri, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Adams.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Fresh Vegetable Soup
10 Asparagus tips on toast
1 tsp. butter
Lemon juice and parsley
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory Total ..... 230

The fresh vegetable soup may be made with or without meat stock. My preference is for the meatless soup. To make it, run a No. 2 can of tomatoes through a colander and add to 2 quarts of water, along with a handful of outside leaves of lettuce, shredded fine, a stalk or two of celery, a few green onions, some parsley, green peas, string beans, and whatever else you can find. A spoonful of canned corn or some spinach. Bring the whole to a boil, season lightly, cover, and simmer for 3 hours, then add a little butter, and whatever seasoning is required.

This is the ideal soup for the individual who wishes to take off weight. It satisfies without adding weight, and has all those calories we hear so much about.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Jam Cake

1 cup sugar
2-3 cup butter
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup any sort of jam
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. each, allspice, cinnamon and nutmeg

Use butter while it is still low priced, when it comes up use half butter and half vegetable shortening.

The use of butter in cakes gives to them a flavor that is obtainable no other way.

Cut the butter into a warm bowl, add sugar and cream until the mass is fluffy. Add the eggs, one at a time, and whip briskly to mix.

Measure the required amount of sifted flour, add the spices to it and sift again.

Put the cup of jam in a small bowl, mix the soda through it until the mass foams, then work it into the sugar part. Add the spiced flour in small amounts, whipping well after each addition.

Butter a square cake tin (10 by 10) line it with oiled brown paper. Bake the cake in this pan in a moderately slow oven. Time, about 45 minutes. Serve without icing.

A little later, when huckleberries are on the market, use this same recipe, changing it only in the sugar item (1 1/2 cups) and 1-2 cup of milk to replace the jam. This recipe will take up 2 cups of huckleberries.

There is a reason why this cake must not be frosted and that reason lies in the calory total—some 445 of them. Cake, y'know, is productive of much energy fuel, and nice pillow curves when indulged in too freely. A 2-inch square has a calory value of 165.

Wednesday: Chili Sauce. And it's not a day too early to get your pickle and meat sauce recipes lined up and on parade.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

When Shrimpy let the swordfish go, he said, "Well, after this you'll know that you should never play mean tricks on visitors down here."

"The lads I've found are Tinymites and they came here to see the sights. From now on, you let them alone. Don't even come near them."

And then the fish swam out of sight and Coppy said, "We'll be all right because of Shrimpy rules the sea. The fish are scared of him."

"We'd best not separate, I guess, 'cause we might get into a mess. I want no big fish chasing me. Gee, how fast they can swim!"

Kind Shrimpy said, "Don't worry, son. I will make sure that nothing's done to spoil your good time while you're here. Where would you like to go?"

"I might suggest most anything,"

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Girls who take a flip attitude seldom get ahead.

but first of all, let's meet the king. Whenever he sees little folks it fills him full of cheer.

"Oh, gee, do you mean King Neptune? I hoped we'd meet him pretty soon," cried Windy. "He's a fine old man, so I have often heard."

"Lead on and we will follow you. There's nothing we would rather do. To turn down meeting such a man would really be absurd."

They hadn't traveled very far till Shrimpy shouted, "There you are! Old Neptune's sitting on his throne. It's made of shells, you see."

"Now, don't be backward. Not at all! He will be glad you've made this call. To shake hands with you lads will make him happy as can be."

The king then spied the Tines and he smiled and promptly waved his hand. The Tines all rushed up to him and dropped down on their knees.

"Through your land, 'neath the sea, we're bound, to see what nice things can be found," said Goldy. Then the king replied, "Do anything you please."

POLITICAL DEBTS VS. PUBLIC SERVICE

An editorial appears on the first page of the Los Angeles Examiner today, with the spirit of which we heartily agree. In part, it says:

Economy in public expenditure is demanded by the conditions of the times, but the impulse to economize should be directed and exercised where it belongs—in the vast field of political waste and indefensible extravagance.

Here is where the knife of retrenchment should cut deep and wide.

The faithful school teachers of the country are not to be bracketed as a public expense with the thousands of political parasites who feed at the public trough and, protected by the party machines, defy all efforts to displace them or reduce their number.

The schools are a sacred trust and the people of the United States so regard them.

The politicians are a national curse.

The people have no intention of preserving them as payroll fixtures at the expense of the country's school children.

We would commend this thought to the taxpayers, citizens and to those who are considering public expenditure. Every dollar that is needlessly expended through paying more than needs to be paid for public work; every dollar of graft of every kind and character; every additional man on the payroll, who is being placed there to carry out a campaign promise of officials, adds to the necessity of forcing economies in directions where the most liberal treatment should be exercised.

While we know that a faithful teacher will serve the pupil just as thoroughly at $1800 a year, as she would at $2000, yet if by cutting out needless expense elsewhere, she can be paid that extra $200, she should receive it, not because the teacher should be neglected, but because service should be properly paid for and that there should be the highest inducement possible for the best people to enter educational work.

Of all the groups which should fight against misuse of funds and insist upon honesty and economy in government, generally, it is that group of honest and faithful men and women engaged in public service, who are receiving their income on merit, and not on political preferment, political "pull," or because of the payment of political debts.

The taxpayers naturally must look to the aggregate in amounts, and when cuts must come, there is not the discrimination possible that there should be. And the argument should be presented, not on the ground that "cuts hurt the children," because, as a matter of fact, the service is still rendered, just as the service is still rendered by the auditor or treasurer of the county when he receives a cut.

But the argument should be presented upon the merits and values of the preparation and service compared with the values and costs in other directions.

THE RIGHT NOTE LAUDED

Members of the Civilian Conservation Corps, scattered throughout the length and breadth of these United States, were given a special treat last night when President Roosevelt and the four cabinet members in charge of the work, and the director of the corps, addressed them upon a special radio program.

We do not know exactly the purpose behind the broadcast, but if it were to stimulate and encourage the morale of the members of this organization, we should say it was an outstanding success. The stirring appeals to the young men located in these camps, together with the recapitulation of their work, were conducive to an optimistic feeling to the "outsider" who was listening in.

The message of President Roosevelt showed a deep sympathy for, and real understanding of, the problems of these young men, and also of the nation as a whole. He emphasized, and rightly, the need for a nation of workers, and the right of every man to an opportunity to contribute his services, both for his own good and the good of others, to the material values of life.

President Roosevelt, in this, recognized the most serious handicap to the young man and young women of today. Fathers and mothers recognize it. They recognize it, possibly, more than do the young people themselves. They know their own experience, and the joy and the development in their lives that came through a recognition that the world needed them, and that they were contributing to the world's need.

We are glad that President Roosevelt, has gone through the experience of service, and been so in constant touch with human need that he recognizes the necessity of this labor.

Again, he emphasized the thought that we must get away from the expectation of receiving something for nothing. It would be well if the people of our country should definitely understand that doubling or quadrupling, through speculation, the amount one has today, is not conducive to a normal life. It is not in harmony with the interest of the great mass of the people, and it, in the last analysis, is taking money from other people who lose it, without giving them anything in return for it. The President could very well have pointed to the speculative mania that seems to have taken possession of our people, just as strongly as they had it in 1929.

President Roosevelt, although he has never known, in his own personal life, what absolute need of the necessities or comforts of life is, seems through observation and contact, to have vicariously experienced it, so that he understands it. We have no doubt but the thousands of young men who listened to his address will be helped greatly thereby.

READING

A publisher in New York charges that colleges in too many instances produce "acute reading apathy" in the students so that college graduates do not know how to read and do not love books.

It is more tactful and more commonplace to blame the schools than the home but if by college age a youngster hasn't a love for books it would seem that it would be rather hopeless to inspire him to a love of books after that, unless he passed through some actual metamorphosis. And on the other hand if from childhood the college student has had books around him and learned to love books it seems improbable that a college could break him of the habit any more than it could break him of the habit of eating by serving poor or badly prepared food.

The book-sellers and publishers are much concerned because of the inroads of the movies, the radio, bridge, golf and motor cars on their business as well as the small space in most houses for placing books.

"These are all legitimate topics for trade surveys," says Mr. Schuster, "this publisher, 'but underlying all of them is the cardinal problem of the desire to read."

"When you have the desire, you will walk a mile to find a book store; you will prune the deadwood from your shelves and make room for the better books, old and new alike; you will borrow, steal, or otherwise raise the money, or cut less durable satisfactions from your budget. The will is everything."

"If the 5,000,000 college graduates of this country increased their book-reading time by even as little as 10 per cent, the results would be tremendous. College graduates who do not know how to read constitute a major indictment of American educational methods and a constant challenge to the country's publishers and book-sellers."

If, as Mr. Schuster maintains, college graduates do not have the passion one would naturally expect for books, the number of college graduates is a wonderful testimony to the endurance of that class of people for it takes some reading to get through college. But maybe that is the reason some of them do not read after they are through. Having had a college education, the weary graduate calls upon the diploma to serve in lieu of being well read.

Mr. Schuster was rather hard on the college graduates, when he said, "instead of stepping forth as an eager candidate for adult education who should look forward to a life-time of learning and reading after commencement, we frequently get an unripe bachelor of arts who is scarcely an adult and shuns education like the plague."

Honest criticism shouldn't hurt anyone. If it is applicable one should profit from it and if it isn't one certainly should not be hurt by it, for it is meaningless.

U. S. Safety Campaign is Making Progress

San Bernardino Sun

The National Safety council has a right to feel proud. With its report for last year, it finished 20 years of work for the promotion of safety. In those two decades there were 1,720,000 deaths from accidents in the United States. More than one-fourth of that total resulted from motor accidents. The total number of accidental deaths in 1932, however, was 3,000 less than in 1931 and the lowest since 1924. Some of the decrease, doubtless, particularly industrial and automobile accidents, must be credited to the depression. With fewer factories operating and fewer cars on the road, fewer accidents may be taken for granted. Yet the persistent and thorough educational work conducted by the council has helped greatly to teach people wise caution.

That there is much room for further education is shown by the fact that deaths from accidents in the home, supposedly a haven of security, rank second in number to the motor fatalities. There were 28,000 such deaths last year.

In nearly all classes of accidents, the totals were down. In one field alone was the report for 1932 just as bad as ever. That was in accidental deaths from firearms. Hunting seasons still bring down as great a number of human victims as ever. The game killed is paid for with a high toll of human life. Are sportsmen beyond the reach of the National Safety council's efforts?

When is An Antique?

Christian Science Monitor

Steps should be taken to better define the antique. Recent discoveries have upset the somewhat elastic rules by which an "antiquarian" if such he may be called, establishes an antique. A few old chairs, the attic may go back far enough to claim antiquity, but if there happen to be plenty of the same type in attics generally they are merely old chairs. An antique, then, to be an antique must be a rarity as well.

Antiquity, too, is relative. An antique in the United States, for instance, may be looked upon as quite modern in the older European countries. And there are antiques that go back to the early days of civilization and which are dug out of the ground and carefully preserved in public and private museums. They are the older generation of antiques—the antique antiques. And right here is where the trouble begins.

Recent excavations in Palestine have made it clear that antiques were in vogue way back 2700 years ago. Here were found not only the antique antiques of the period but also antiques that were antique to the antique antiques. Fortunately the excavators were well up in their antiquity and were able to separate the young antiques from the old antiques, but for the rest of us better definitions evidently are needed.

They Built Too Much

New York Times

The fifty-three-story Lincoln Building across the way from Grand Central Terminal has been sold at auction in mortgage foreclosure. It is said to be the largest structure that ever came under the hammer—and a mighty hammer it must be to knock down so bulky an item. Recalling the pride, the vain-glory and the presumption of the bull market of 1929, one might almost say it was the hammer of God.

Yet this would be too severe. The business towers and pinnacles with which the late boom endowed New York City beyond her needs will not always remain beyond the city's requirements. In the course of time the mammoth office structures will be populated. The occupants will come in part from older and obsolete buildings. This is as it should be.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

BAD MEDICINE

Whenever I start on vacation
To my friends and my kin I declare:
"Now I'll know the delightful sensation
Of being as free as the air.
I shall build up my mind and my body,
I shall get myself into the pink,
And just an occasional toddy
Is all that I ever shall drink.
Every day I'm away I shall carefully plan
To come back to work quite a different man."

"Over the mesa I'll happily gallop,
And return in the gathering gloom,
Or shoot in a frail little shallop
Through the torrent-tossed, feathery foam.
I shall drink at cool, swift-running fountains,
I shall hear the coyote's wild cry,
I shall climb up the towering mountains
Whose tops serve as props for the sky.
And when I return you'll be bound to admit
That for once in my life I am husky and fit."

But when my vacation is ended
I have lost the old grip on the ball;
I feel very deeply offended
If expected to labor at all.
I am dull and dejected and jaded;
No task I am willing to do,
And thereafter I'm fully persuaded
That man's place is out under the blue;
And to my idling eyes it seems perfectly clear
That loafing is really my destined career.

Me and Puds Simkins and Lucky Leroy Shooster was sitting upon my front steps talking about different subjects, and Puds said, I got a swell idea, let's start a big club with all the fellows in it and no geris, and call it The Fales Ony.

G, sure, all rite, me and Leroy said, and Puds said, And I'll be the president on account of making up the suggestion, because that means I've got the first rite.

Like fun it does, I said, and Leroy said, Like heck it does, and I said, I'll be the president because the club was started on my front steps, so that gives me the privilege.

Not according to law it dont, Leroy Shooster said.
His father being a lawyer and him always trying to take advantage of it, and Puds said, Aw, the heck with law.

Hay, dont you leave any judge hear you say that, Lucky Leroy said. According to law when 3 fellows start a club they haff to choose straws to find out which one is president, and the one that picks the longest straw, he's elected. So who's got 3 straws? he said.

Nothing doing, there's too much luck in that, I said. And anyway the whole club's a failure already because everybody we ask to join will want to be the president or elts they wont join, I said, and Puds said, Sure, look how many minstrel shows never got started on account of everybody wanting to be end men.

Well then I tell you what, Lucky Leroy said. Let's just us 3 get up a club with nobody elts in it, and call it The Myticky, and the myticky part of it is that nobody knows who's the president so we can all think we are and we each have a chance of being rite for all we know. How's that for a swell idee? he said.

Swell, me and Puds said.

And we made up a myticky handshake and the club started.

PENROSE AND LAFOLLETTE

Does the American future belong to the ghost of Penrose or to the ghost of LaFollette?

I use the name Penrose loosely to suggest the philosophy of big business organized along monopoly lines.

I use the name LaFollette loosely to suggest the philosophy of high wages, short hours and kindred policies that seek to lighten the load on the shoulders of the little man and the man who labors with his hands.

I answer my question by saying that in my judgment, we are nearing the end of our social and economic order, as we have known it, if we surrender the future exclusively and literally to either of these ghosts.

The new situation created by science and technology requires, I think, the emergence of a new liberalism—or, as I should prefer to call it, a new realism—that will effect a synthesis of the heart of the Penrose philosophy and the heart of the LaFollette philosophy.

Never have we needed to listen more eagerly to the plea that the older LaFollette made for the little man and the laboring men, for, until we give liberal income and large leisure to the little men and to the laboring men throughout the country, our machine economy will lack a dependable market for its lush output.

At the same time, never have we needed to listen more tolerantly to the plea of the Penroses that business must be big in this new age and that something approaching monopoly practices are necessary if industry is to function with social as well as financial efficiency in this new age.

If the New Dealers attempt to do one of these things—either of these things—without the other they will land us in confusion worse confounded.

The times demand, as I have pleaded so often in these articles, for a frank acceptance of the large-scalelessness of the age, a deliberate national unification of the forces in every major industrial field, the fact of monopoly willingly accepted, with the fruits of monopoly fully protected for the public benefit.

And, alongside this and made possible by it, a nation-wide adoption of a high wage and short hour program that will be socially sound for the people and financially sound for the producers.

SWIMMING DAYS

Now comes swimming days. The skies are high and blue, the air is soft and warm and the charm of the water lies on the children. Water always lures children. They will play in a puddle that is dark with mud, try to float their ships in its scant inch of water. When they discover an expanse like the brook or the pool, the river or the lake, they are not to be held. Swim they must. And if the ocean lies before them they wait for no invitation, ask no permission, The water calls and they answer.

We cannot keep children out of the water if we want to because the instinct to bathe in it is too strong. Of course we do not want to keep them out of the swimming places but we are always in fear for their lives if the water is more than a few inches deep. We want them to stay close to the shore, carry life preservers, cling to the raft and stand on their feet. That isn't going to help us any. The only safe thing to do is to teach the children to swim and the sooner they learn the better.

I hope nobody is going to throw a child into the water to teach him to swim. That is about the best way in the world to teach him not to swim. It frightens him and establishes a fear that is hard to overcome. If the child shows timidity when the others strike out boldly into deep water, let him alone. Let him sit on the sand, paddle about in the shallows, float his chips and boats until he gets ready to venture farther. Perhaps he would ride for a short distance on your shoulder while you swim out from shore. If he does carry him gently and be sure to land him without spilling him into the water. Some big folks think it great fun to dump a frightened child into the water and then fish him out again just to show him there is no danger of his drowning. That won't teach the child confidence in you or in the water.

Keep faith with him when you carry him out or when you float him on your arm.

We have the greatest difficulty with the boys and girls who can swim well. They scorn all rules and regulations and in consequence one or more of them are lost every summer. Nobody, big or little or middle sized, expert swimmer or beginner, should go into the water alone. Somebody must be close at hand in case of need. It is idle to say that an expert swimmer needs no help. A cramp is as likely to seize an expert as it is to drown a beginner. Our summer community lost a fine young man because he scorned this notion and went down to the lake for a swim before tea when everybody else was off the lake. His life was priceless but he tossed it away in a gesture of power that failed him.

The other stern rule is that nobody rock the boat, change places in a row boat or a canoe while it is on the water. Get settled before the start and stay settled to the end of the trip. This holds for the boys and girls who have won their life saving badges as well as for those who cannot swim. They can practice live saving close to shore. There is no need for too much realism in the practice either.

This all sounds as though I were afraid to have the children get into the water. That is not so. I have no fear for them unless the rules of the game are violated. There is no fun in risking a child's life. He should be taught that early, and all older persons ought to know and respect it fervently.
